REMARKS.

THIS Catalogue, which is the first of a series to be issued of the Library of Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, will mark an epoch in the history of American book sales. There has never been such a collection offered at either public or private sale in the world. It embraces nearly three times as many titles as were contained in the great Stevens Collection, purchased by the Library of Congress for thirty-five thousand dollars, and it is larger by far than any collection in either private or public hands. Governor Pennypacker has spent upwards of forty years of untiring research, to make this collection a representative one, and this catalogue will attest the great success which has crowned his efforts.

The collection of Almanacs is unusually large, and contains quite a number that are unique. The Franklin Session Laws of Pennsylvania, and the Votes of the House of Representatives, are almost complete and in magnificent condition. Of the miscellaneous books issued from the Franklin Press, we might mention Cicero's Cato Major (No. 55); Essay on the West India Dry-Gripes, 1745 (No. 57); the finest set of the Seven Moravian Conference Pamphlets in existence; Vorspiel der Neuen-welt, 1732 (No. 4); All Slave Keepers that keep the Innocents in Bondage, 1737 (No. 9); Dewsbury's Sermon, 1740 (No. 16); My Dear Fellow-Traveller, 1742 (No. 20½); Anno Regni, Georgii II., 1749 (No. 69); Arndt's Der Hocherteuchteter Theologi, 1751 (No. 84); A Poem on Visiting the Academy of Philadelphia, 1753 (No. 87); Narrative of the Late Massacres in Lancaster County, 1764 (No. 109); Poor Richard Almanacks (Lots 112 to 162); Pocket Almanacks (Nos. 163 to 169); Moore's American Country Almanacs (Nos. 170 to 173); Jerman's American Almanacs (Nos. 174 to 177); Pennsylvania Gazettes (Nos. 266 to 276), and numerous works of equal rarity and importance.

One of the most important features of the sale is the collection of Autograph Letters, signed, from Benjamin Franklin, and his son, William Franklin, Colonial Governor of New Jersey.

These embrace a series of twenty-one letters, all addressed to William Strahan, the publisher and friend of Franklin. They throw much light on Franklin's life, and on the history of the American Revolution; in one of them Franklin gives a full report of the speech of William Pitt on the Stamp Act, which he heard (No. 284).

In the books from Franklin's library, is a collection of pamphlets, by various authors, on electricity. These the Doctor had bound together for his personal use, and are doubly interesting from that fact; in one of the pamphlets the author calls Franklin "The father of electricity" (No. 286).

On the cover of the Catalogue is given a reproduction of a bas-relief portrait of Franklin, in Wedgwood, from the wax model of Patience Wright, and executed by the famous Josiah Wedgwood. This is very rare, and is one of the most truthful portraits of the great philosopher and philanthropist. There is also the original portrait of Franklin drawn by Benjamin West, a reproduction of which faces the title page of the Catalogue. Of course this is of superlative value, as it was evidently drawn from the life. And a portrait in bas-relief, in papier maché, made in Paris about 1785, and which evidently belonged to Franklin, as it comes from his family.

Of the books written by and relating to Franklin, there is a great number, which include many works of great historical importance, embracing the various editions of his life works, an uncut copy of his "Historical Review of Pennsylvania," 1759; Franklin's "Political Miscellanies," 1779; "Experiments and Observations on Electricity," 1769; "On Smoky Chimneys," 1793; Keimer's "Brand Pluck'd from the Burning," 1718; and there is also a large collection of Pennsylvania Colonial and Continental paper money, which was printed by Franklin and his immediate successors, Hall & Sellers.

It is unnecessary for me to say more about this truly remarkable collection, as the Catalogue has been faithfully compiled, and interspersed with notes which cannot fail to be of interest. Such an opportunity will probably never occur again. Consequently it will be well for librarians and collectors to give this their careful attention.

Of the balance of Governor Pennypacker's library, catalogues are in course of preparation, and will include the largest collection of "Personal Books" (books from the libraries of great men) in this country. Of course these embrace quite a number of Manuscript Journals, etc., of great importance. Of books relating to the history of Pennsylvania, the library is replete, and probably not equalled by any private collection. The issues of the Ephrata Press and Sower's Germantown Press, are as complete as is possible to make them, as well as those from the press of Robert Bell. Of early Philadelphia and Pennsylvania imprints, there is also an unusually fine collection, embracing the first American editions of the great English authors.

There are also a very important gathering of works relating to general American history. One feature of the Governor's library, which he prided himself on, is the collection of early American Magazines, which is conceded to be the finest in the country. Then there are a great number of books on Genealogy, Bibliography, and Miscellaneous Literature, Confederate Imprints, an interesting collection of Children's Books, and a large number of books relating to General Washington.

Catalogue.

FRANKLIN IMPRINTS.

1 1725. The | New-England Courant. | From Saturday December 25, to Saturday January 1, 1725. | Boston. Printed and sold by Benjamin Franklin in Union Street where,| Advertisements and Letters are taken in. Price 4d single, or 12s a Year.

Folio, half morocco.

About one-third of the first leaf missing, and both leaves much stained.

2 1728. The | History | of the | Rise, Increase, and Progress, | Of the Christian People called | Quakers: | Intermixed with Several | Remarkable Occurrences, | Written Originally in Low-Dutch, and also Tran- | slated into English, | By William Sewel, | The Third Edition, corrected. | Philadelphia: | Printed and Sold by Samuel Keimer in Second Street.| MDCCXXVIII.

Folio, contemporary calf.

On the fly-leaf is written: "Thomas Gilpin his Book 1729. Thomas Gilpin was Bourne in the year 1700 5 month 23 day. Hannah Gilpin was Bourne in the year 1689 2 month." On the other side of fly-leaf: Thomas Gilpin his Book 1729. Hannah Gilpin her book 1729." On the Title: "Caleb Seals Book 1821,"

This book, though having the imprint of Samuel Keimer, came partly from the office of Franklin, and was the first book-work done there. Franklin printed the title-page, Dedication, pages 457 to 694, and the Index. He says, in his autobiography, "Breintnal particularly procured for us from the Quakers the printing 40 sheets of their history the rest being done by Keimer, and upon these we worked exceeding hard for the price was low. It was a folio pro patria size in pica with long primer notes. I composed a sheet a day and Meredith worked it off at press, it was often eleven at night and sometimes later before I had finished my distribution for the next days work, for the little Jobbs sent in by our other friends now and then put us back. But so determined I was to continue doing a sheet a day of this folio that one night when having imposed my forms I thought my days work over, one of them by accident was broken, and two pages rendered to pi, I immediately distributed it over again before I went to bed, and this industry visible to our neighbours began to give us character and credit."

3 Another copy.

Folio, contemporary calf, rebacked with morocco.

Title repaired and last leaf slightly imperfect and repaired. On the reverse of title is "William Blakey his Book. Joel Blakey his Book 1750."

4 1732. Vorspiel | der | Neuen-welt, | Welches sich in der letzten Abendröthe | als ein paradischer Lichtes-glantz | unter den Kindern Gottes | hervor gethan. | in | Liebes, Lobes, Leidens, Krafft | und Erfahrungs liedern abgebildet, die | gedruckte, gebückte und Creutz- | tragende Kirche auf Erden | &c, &c, &c. Zu Philadelphia: Gedruckt bey Benjamin'| Francklin in der Market-Strass 1732.

One of the rarest and most curious of American books. It was written by Conrad Beissel and others of the Ephrata Monastery, is one of their earliest productions, and the first book printed in German, though in English type, in America, and also one of the rarest of Franklin imprints. For a full account, see Dr. Seidensticker's "Die Deutsche Amerikanischen Incunabula." Title damaged on upper right-hand corner and book somewhat stained.

5 1732. Pensilvania, ss. THE Proprietaries, from the several Notices given to the Inhabitants of this Province, for the Payment of their Arrears of Quitrent, fully expected they should not have been laid under a Necessity of urging the Tenants by any further Publication, to do what is so indispensably their Duty, and that by which they hold their Estates. But as these Expectations, founded on Justice and the good Opinion they had conceived of the People's Integrity, have not been answered, they hereby order further Notice to be given, That the Subscriber their Receiver-General, is appointed to attend at his Office in Philadelphia, to receive the Arrears and Rents due for the City and County of Philadelphia, from the 20th Day of the Month of February, to the 13th Day of March next ensuing. At Chester for receiving those of that County, from the 18th to the 25th Day of the same Month; and at Pensbury in the County of Bucks, from the 29th of the said Month of March, to the 3d Day of the Month of April next following, for receiving those of that County. And also that Attendance will be given at the Town of Lancaster for the County of Lancaster, from the 26th to the 31st of the Month of March aforesaid, for receiving the Arrears of Quit-Rents due there. At which respective Places and Times, all Persons in Arrears are required to come and pay the same; and if any shall fail to appear and make Payment, according to their respective Tenures, or in current Money of this Province, as the same is now, or shall then be received in Exchange for Sterling Money of Great Britain, such Methods will be pursued as must be attended with Charges, which the Proprietaries by their long Forbearance, hoped the Inhabitants would by complying with their Duty have prevented.

Facsimile of Lot No. 7.

the original Autograph Minutes of the Friends' Meeting, Philadelphia, Oct. 24, 1738, denouncing the book, inserted. The minutes are written and signed by John Kinsey.

This is one of the earliest American books against slavery. Its author lived in a cave in Abington, near Philadelphia. The book was given away. As the subject was unpopular, the printer, with his usual worldly wisdom, did not put his name on the title. It contains also the observations, on the same subject, of William Burling, of Long Island, written in 1718.

10 1737. The Sum of Religion | He that fears the Lord of Heaven and Earth; walks humbly | before him; thankfully lays hold of the Message of Redemp- | tion by Jesus Christ, and strives to express his Thankfulness | by the Sincerity of his Obedience; is sorry with all his Soul, when | he comes short his Duty; . . . . This Paper is said to have been found in Judge Hale's Closet, amongst other Papers. | Sold by Benjamin Lay in Second-Street near the Market, Philadelphia; where may be had Bibles, | Testaments, Psalters, Primers, &c with Latin Books for Scholars, Books of Arithmetik, Geo- | metry, Astronomy, &c | (Printed by Benjamin Franklin.)

Etc.

Folio. 4 pp. Three-quarter red morocco.

This folio contains the names of three hundred and three German residents of Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks and Lancaster Counties naturalized by the Supreme Court. Hildeburn attributes it to Joseph Crellius, who, Thomas says, printed a newspaper for some years, but if printed by him it is the only specimen of his work known to exist. My belief is that it was printed by Benjamin Franklin and that Crellius was only a German agent for that shrewd man of business. A comparison of type and paper shows that they are identical with those used by Franklin. If Crellius had a printing office, it is remarkable that no book or pamphlet printed by him is known. Hildeburn had never seen a copy.—GOV. PENNYPACKER.

8vo, half morocco.

Collation: Title, with woodcut on reverse; pp. 3-22.

Written by Benjamin Franklin, and the woodcut on the reverse of title forms a very early example of that art in America At the bottom of the last leaf and on the fly-leaf following, the former (contemporaneous) owner of the copy has entered the mottoes and devices of the ten regiments of Pennsylvania Associators, organized because of this publication. The mottoes are exceedingly interesting, and are as follows:

"In consequence of the above Proposal an Association was entered into by ye People of all Ranks, but ye Quakers, and the following is an Account of the Devices and Mottos on some of their Colours.

"Devices and Motto's painted on some of the Colours of the Association Regiments, in and near Philadelphia in the Year 1747.

61—Continued.

"First. A Lyon erect, a naked Scimeter in one Paw, the other holding the Pennsylvania Escutcheon, Motto Pro Patriæ.

"2d Three Arms wearing different Linnen, ruffled and chequed. The Hands joined by grasping each others Wrist, denoting the Union of all Parties, Motto Unita Virtus Valet.

277 (WOLLASTON, WILLIAM.) The Religion of Nature Delineated.

4to, new law sheep.

London: Reprinted in the Year 1724 by Samuel Palmer.

The second edition, and the one on which Benj. Franklin worked as a compositor. In Franklin's antobiography we find the following. "We arrived in London the 24th of December 1724 . . . . I immediately got into work at Palmer's then a famous printing house in Bartholomew Close, and here I continued near a year. . . . . At Palmer's I was employed in composing for the second edition of "Wollaston's Religion of Nature," some of his reasonings not appearing to me well founded, I wrote a little metaphysical piece in which I made remarks on them. It was entitled "Dissertation on Liberty and Necessity, Pleasure and Pain."

278 ANOTHER COPY.

4to, contemporary calf. London: Printed by Samuel Palmer, 1725

This is believed by many authorities to be the edition upon which Franklin worked as compositor.

279 ANOTHER COPY.

Contemporary calf. (Binding damaged.) London: Printed by Samuel Palmer, Bartholomew-Close, 1726.

Henry Stevens gives this as the Franklin edition. It was certainly one of the three, and the possession of all takes one out of the reach of conflict. Stevens says, "On this book Franklin worked while with Palmer in 1725; the general style is similar, and the identical woodcut on the title of the volume appeared at the end of Franklin's Dissertation on Liberty and Necessity."

280 CARE, HENRY. English Liberties; or, The Freeborn Subject's Inheritance. Containing Magna Charta, Charta de Foresta, The Statute De Tallagio non Concedenda, The Habeas Corpus Act, and several other Statutes; with Comments on each of them. The Fifth Edition.

8vo, old calf. Boston: Printed by J. Franklin, for N. Buttelph, B. Eliot, and D. Henchman, and sold at their shops, 1721.

At the time of this publication, Benj. Franklin was in the employment of Jas. Franklin, and doubtless set type on it.

281 SYMMES, THOMAS. An Ordination Sermon. Preach'd at Malden, Octob. 31. 1721. Where the Reverend Mr. Joseph Emerson was Ordain'd Pastor of the Church in said Town. (With the Sub-title, so often missing.)

8vo, half morocco. Boston: Printed and Sold by J. Franklin in Queen-Street, 1722.

This book was printed while Franklin was in the office of his brother, and while the newspaper was appearing under his name. See his Autobiography.

282 BARCLAY, ROBERT. An Apology for the True Christian Divinity, As the same is Held Forth, and Preached, by the People, called in Scorn, Quakers.

8vo, old calf. Newport, Rhode-Island: Printed by James Franklin, 1729

Soiled. This copy belonged to the families of Brooke and Evans in the Schuylkill Valley, and has autographs of "William Evans 1739," "Owen Evans 1747," "George Brooke" and others. Very rare.

283 SOME FRUITS OF SOLITUDE, or Reflections and Maxims, Relating to the Conduct of Human Life. The Eighth Edition.

16mo, old calf. Newport, Rhode-Island: Printed by James Franklin, at the Town-School-House, 1749.

A little loose in the binding, but a nice, clean copy.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS

Of Benjamin Franklin and William Franklin to William Strahan.

284 FRANKLIN. An highly historical and extraordinary collection of twenty-one autograph letters. Twelve being written and signed by Benjamin Franklin, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and nine by his son, William Franklin, Colonial Governor of New Jersey. All to William Strahan, the noted English publisher.

Folio and quarto, dating from Oct. 19, 1748 to Nov. 6, 1781; attached to sheets of Whatman's paper and bound in folio. Full crushed levant, gilt backs and sides in Grolier style, broad dentelle borders, gilt edges.

This remarkable series of letters, has been bound in a handsome volume, with a title page and preliminary pages of extracts from the same, beautifully printed on Whatman's paper. It is, without exception, the most valuable collection of its kind in existence, and of great historical importance, on account of the contents bearing on epochs in Franklin's life, as well as interesting occurrences connected with the history of the American Revolution, the one especially in which Benjamin Franklin includes a full report of the speech of William Pitt on the Stamp Act, which he heard. They throw a flood of light on the politics of the times, and also show that the doctor had determined to leave America, and make England his home. With this catalogue we issue a separate pamphlet, containing a full copy of each letter, verbatim, et punctuatim et literatim, which we would advise our patrons to read carefully, and which will convey a better idea of the value of the collection than any words expressed by us.

285 FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. Autograph Letter, signed. 3 pp. Folio. Philadelphia, April 29th, 1749. To Wm. Strahan.

An exceedingly interesting letter, displaying Franklin's great business sagacity. We quote it in full.

you from the W. Indies, and suppose may be in your Hands before the Time, will I imagine near ballance our Acc^ts^

"In a former Letter I promis'd to write you largely about your Affair with Mr Read, and the Measures taken to recover your Money. Before I receiv'd your Power of Attorney and Acc^t.^ there was a Misunderstanding between us, occasioned by his endeavouring to get a small Office from me (Clerk to the Assembly) which I took the more amiss as we had always been good Friends and the Office could not have been of much Service to him the Salary being small; but valuable to me; as a Means of Securing the Publick Business to our Printing House. So as we were not on Speaking Terms when your Acc^t.^ came to hand and the influence I had over him as Friend become little or nothing it was some Time before I mentioned it to him. But at length the Ice was broke in the following Manner. I have a Friend in the Country that assisted me when I first set up, whose Affairs have lately been in some Disorder (occasion'd chiefly by his too great good Nature) his Creditors coming in the same time in a Crowd upon Him. I had made up with several of them for him, but Mr Read being employ'd in one small Case (a Debt of 12£ only) early on (by some Contrivance in the Law which I dont understand) a private Action against him, by summoning him in this County when he lives in another, and obtain'd a Judgment against him without his or my knowing anything of the matter; and then came to me, knowing I had a great Affection for Mr Grace, and in a very insulting Manner ask'd, "What shall I do with your Friend Grace? I have got Judgment against him, and must take out Execution if the Debt is not immediately satisfy'd &c." Upon inquiring into the Matter, and understanding how it had been carry'd on I grew a little warm, blam'd his Practice as irregular and unfair, and his Conduct towards Mr Grace, to whom his Father and Family had been much oblig'd, as ungrateful; and find that since he look'd on me as Mr Grace's Friend, he should have told me of the Action before he commenc'd it, that I might have prevented it, and sav'd the Charges arising on it; and his not doing so could be only from a View to the small Fees it procur'd him, in carrying it thro' all the Courts, &c ——He justify'd his Practice, and said it was legal & frequent; deny'd that his Father or Family were under any Obligations to Mr Grace; Alleg'd that Grace had us'd him ill in employing another Lawyer as some of his own Actions, when at the same Time he owed him near Five Pounds; and added haughtily that he was determin'd to sue Grace on his own Acc^t.^ if not speedily paid; and so saying left me very abruptly.——I thought this a good

Opportunity of introducing your Affair, imagining that a Consciousness of his ill Behaviour toward my Friend would pique him to make immediate Payment. Accordingly I wrote him a Letter the next Day, of which I send you the rough Draft enclos'd, together with his Answer; since which several other Letters pass'd on the same Subject, of which I have no Copies. All I insisted on, since he declar'd his Inability to pay at present, was, that he should give you his Bond, so that in Case of his Death you might come in for Payment prior to common Creditors, and that he should allow you Interest from the Time the Money became due in the common Court of Payments. He agreed to give his Bond, but it has been delay'd from time to time till this Day, when on my writing to him again, to know what Amount I should send you, I receiv'd from him the enclos'd Billet, in which he refuses to allow Interest for the Time past, As he cannot be compelled to pay Interest on a Book Acc$^{t.}$ I desired him then to fill up and execute a Bond to you for the Principal & he might settle the Affair of the Interest with you hereafter. Accordingly he has just now done it, so that Interest will arise for the time to come:—But as he threatens to pay very speedily, and I am persuaded may easily do it by the help of his Relations, who are wealthy, I hope you will not have much Interest to receive. ——He has a great many good qualities for which I love him; but I believe hes is, as you say, sometimes a little crazy.——If the Debt were to me, I could not sue him; so I believe you will not desire me to do it for you; but he shall not want Pressing (tho' I scarcely ever dun for myself) because I think his Relations may and will help him if properly apply'd to; and Mr Hall thinks with me, that urging him frequently may make him more considerate, and induce him to abridge some of his unnecessary Expenses. The Bond is made payable in a Month from the Day; and, for your Encouragement I may add that notwithstanding what he affects to pay of the Badness of his Circumstances, I look on the Debt to be far from desperate.

"Please to send me Chamber's Dictionary, the best Edition and charge it on Mr Halls Invoice My Compliments to Mrs Strahan: My Dame writes to her, I am, with great Esteem and Affections,

1st. Conjecture on the Cause of Thunder. Paris 1756. With the Signature at end of "Ed Wright."

2d. The Philosophy of Earthquakes, Natural and Religious, or an Inquiry into their Cause and purpose, by Wm. Stukeley. The three parts. London 1766.

At the end of the Preface of Part I the author has written: "To Benjamin Franklin Esq., Father of Electricity, the author."

3d. Sir Isaac Newton's Æther Realized or The Second Part of the Subtil Medium Proved, and Electricity Rendered Useful. By R. Lovett. London, N. D.

4th. Littre Electrique sur la mort de M. Richmann (par A Rabigueau.)

Bound in one volume. 8vo, half bound.

On the fly-leaf Franklin has written the contents in his well-known hand, and on the opposite side of the same leaf, in the handwriting of his grandson Wm. Duane Jr., is the following: "March 28. 1835, I bought this Book at the sale of my grandfather's Library The writing on the next page is Dr Franklin's to whom the book formerly belonged." To this Governor Pennypacker has added the following: "I bought this book at the sale of the library of William Duane, December 8. 1882 No better memento of Benjamin Franklin could be desired It is his own collection of pamphlets relating to Electricity and they are filled with references to his discourses At least one of them was presented to him by the author, who called him Father of Electricity' in an autograph note It contains Franklin's memoranda, and it remained in his family till yesterday Samuel W Pennypacker, December, 9 1882."

287 CLAIRBOIS, M. VIAL DU. Essai Geometrique et Pratique sur L'Architecture Navale.

290 FORSTER, JOHN REINOLD. Observations made during a Voyage Round the World, on Physical Geography, Natural History and Ethic Philosophy.
4to, old calf. (Rebacked.) London, 1778

Presentation copy from the author, and contains an autograph letter, signed, from the author to "Dr. Benjamin Franklin at Paris" saying, "I hope this may by Your means, become useful to my Brethren in America who are obliged to go on long voyages. I envy the good luck of my son who so often enjoyed the pleasure of being in your company." It also has the following manuscript data on the fly-leaves:

"M. Keppele (bought of Robert Morris),

"Presented by M. K. to his friend John Simson."

"Presented by J. Simson to his friend Chas. Blight."

"Presented by Chas. Blight, to his friend Dr. M. Phillips, at Canton, 14th Sept. 1813."

"Chas. Blight July 8, 1810."

"Presented Oct. 5th 1831, to Roberts Vaux, as a token of friendship by his old school fellow, Joseph Phillips."

"Sold by Hon. Richard Vaux, son of Roberts Vavx, and bought by me, Sept. 14, 1887. Saml. W. Pennypacker."

This is the best work of its celebrated author, who spoke seventeen languages, and gives the result of his voyage with Captain Cooke. Its publication gave offence to the English government.

291 WHITELOCKE, LORD COMMISSIONER. A Journal of the Swedish Embassy, in the Years 1753 and 1754, from the Commonwealth of England, Scotland and Ireland. With an Appendix of original papers.
2 vols. 4to, boards, uncut. London, 1772

From the library of Benjamin Franklin, with his autograph on the title of Vol. 1. Vol. 2 lacks one side of cover.

292 THE GREEK SEPTUAGINT, FROM JOB TO MACCABEES. 12mo, old calf.

There is no title, and it closes with "Telos" the end. It was presented by Benjamin Franklin in 1730 to his friend David Evans, one of the first graduates of Yale, a preacher in the Chester Valley, whose autograph biography in manuscript is in this library. On the fly-leaf of this book is written by Evans: "David Evans me jure tenet ex dono Amici Benj. Franklin, Philad., Typograph, A Dom 1730." Also the names "And^r. Hunter" and "Jno. Tatham."

293 SANDFORDE, JAMES. Hours of Recreation or Afterdinners, which may aptly be called The Garden of Pleasure. Containing most pleasant Tales, Worthy Deeds and Wittie Sayings of Noble Princes and learned Philosophers with their morals.

12mo, calf. London, 1578

Printed in blackletter. Lacks title and several pages. It belonged to Benjamin Franklin. Wm. Duane, his great grandson, used to show it as a great treasure, saying it was the source from which Franklin drew much of the wisdom of "Poor Richard." It contains the autograph of Wm. J. Duane, and an interesting manuscript note by him concerning the library of Franklin.

294 LEWIS, W. The Philosophical Commerce of Arts; Designed as an attempt to improve Arts, Trades and Manufactures. Vol. 2.

4to, contemporary calf. London, 1765

The volume belonged to Franklin, and was by him presented to some library. On the back, in contemporary stamped letters, is "The Gift of B Franklin LL D" Notes in his handwriting may be found on pages 370, 41 and 553, which show that he read it very carefully, and he added to the index those subjects which attracted his attention

Franklin's Shoemaker's Account Book.

295 JONES, JOHN, JR. Day Book. Philadelphia, 1746–1765. Folio, vellum.

In this interesting account book will be found "Benjamin Franklin Dr to a pr Shoes for John Crokers daughter 5s 9d." Jones was a shoemaker, and among his customers were Franklin and many other prominent Philadelphians.

Wedgwood's Portrait of Franklin.

296 CONTEMPORARY PORTRAIT OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN. Full bust and head, in profile to left, in white bas-relief on black background. Oval. Made by the celebrated Josiah Wedgwood, of England, about 1789. Size of plaque, 4 inches by 3 1-14 inches.

296—Continued.

The portrait is beautifully modelled, after the Chamberlain type and in keeping with the general character of the work issued from the celebrated factory. As far as is known, it is the only copy in existence, and is one of the principal treasures in this remarkable collection The portrait is a close rendition of that modelled in wax by Patience Wright, and it is likely that Wedgwood employed her to make it for him, as she resided in London at that time. See facsimile on cover

Benjamin West's Portrait of Franklin.

On the back of this great treasure, in the handwriting of the artist, is the following: "A Portrait of Benjamin Franklin Benj. West" It was sold at the dispersion of the West collection in London, 1898, and purchased by Governor Pennypacker. The frame is part of the original flooring of Independence Hall, removed at the restoration of that building in 1898. Of superlative importance See facsimile reduced.

298 PAPIER-MACHE BAS-RELIEF PORTRAIT OF BENJAMIN FRANKLIN. Bust and head, in profile to left, with fur cap. Oval, in an ornamented rectangle. Beautifully colored. Made the latter part of the eighteenth century. In gold-gilt frame.

Very rare, and as curious as it is scarce. It is quite probable that there is not another in existence. It is made of papier-maché, in heavy bas-relief, and colored. It is a French portrait, was owned by Wm Duane and probably at one time belonged to Franklin.

299 BRONZE MEDAL OF THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE, with bust of Franklin, and lettering: "Franklin Institute of the State of Pennsylvania." On the reverse: "Awarded to Wells & Hope Co., Phila., Pa., for the Wells Pat. Metallic Advertising Signs 1874. Second Premium."

300 BRONZE MEDAL, with bust of Franklin and Montyon. Issued by the "Societe Montyon et Franklin," 1883.

301 FRANKLIN. Certificate of membership of William Baker in the Philosophical Society, July 20, 1787. Signed by B. Franklin, President; William White, David Rittenhouse and John Ewing, Vice-Presidents, and James Hutchinson, P. Patterson, Samuel Magaw and John Foulke, Secretaries. With a beautiful specimen of the seal attached by a blue ribbon.

Hall's Letter to Franklin in Reference to their Partnership Accounts in the Printing Business.

302 HALL, DAVID. Partner of Benjamin Franklin in the printing business. Autograph letter, signed. Folio. Philadelphia, February 3, 1772. With address.

This interesting letter was written to Franklin during his residence in London and gives a full account of the profits of the business as well as the meagre earnings of the Pennsylvania Gazette. The letter reads as follows:

"Philad^a. February 3. 1772

"Dear Sir.

quickly, as Mrs Parker is now no more and I want much to have our Partnership settled, as far as it can be done, and to endeavour to fall upon some Method, in order to get in the outstanding Debts, which must amount to a great Deal, if it was possible to get them anything like collected. It is an affair, I think worthy of your looking after, and taking some Pains to accomplish.

"My Family, at present, all in very good health—My Wife as well as can be expected, I did not think she would get over the Loss of our only and much loved Daughter, but it has pleased God wonderfully to support her under that heavy affliction; and I really think she is better in her health now than she had been for some years past—Mrs Franklin, Mrs Backe, and Child are all well, I suppose you will hear from them by this Packet. My Compliments to Mr Backe. I am glad to know by those who have seen you lately, that you enjoy a good state of Health, the Continuance of which shall be always my most sincere Wish. You may believe me to be,

LETTERS

FROM BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AND HIS SON, WILLIAM FRANKLIN.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. a. l. s. 4to, 3 pages. Philadelphia, Oct. 19, 1748. To Wm. Strahan.

Philad[a] Oct. 19, 1748.

Dear Sir

I receiv'd your favour of April 25, with the Maps &c.—I am glad the Polybius did not come, and hope you will not have sent it when this reaches your Hands; it was intended for my Son, who was then in the Army, and seemed bent on a military Life; but as Peace cuts off his Prospect of Advancem[t]. in that Way, he will apply himself to other Business. Enclos'd I send you his Certificate from the Governor of New York, by which he is entitled to £98.16.4 Sterling, being his pay; with a Letter of Attorney impowering you to receive it; I know not what the Deduction will be at the Pay Office; but desire you will give my Acc[t] Credit for the net Proceeds. I am in daily Expectation of a Bill from Virginia of 50 £ which I shall remit you towards the Ballance, & M[r] Hall will acc[t] with you for those Things you have sent me, that are put in his Invoice. Our Acc[ts] agree, except that I have charg'd you £1. 9. 7. for the Ainsworth & James Read, the 6/7 being the Proportion of Charges on that Book. and the Bill on Geo Rigge my Acc[t] called £15.7.11. yours £15.7.1; which is but a small Variation; & I know not but yours may be right.

I have lately sent a Printing house to Antigua, by a very sober, honest & diligent young Man, who has already (as I am informed by divers Hands,) gain'd the Friendship of the principal People, and is like get into good Business. This will open another Market for your Books if you think fit to use it; for I am persuaded, that if you shall send him a Parcel with any Quantity of Stationary he may write to you for, he will make you good and punctual Returns. His name is Thomas Smith ; he is the only Printer on that Island :— had worked with me here and at my Printing-house in N York, 3 or 4 Years, and always behaved extremely well.

Mr Tho' Osborne Bookseller of London, is endeavouring to open a Correspondence in the Plantations for the Sale of his Books: He has accordingly sent several Parcels, 1 to Mr Parker of N. York, 1 to Mr Read here, & one to Mr Parks in Virginia. I have seen the Invoices to Parker & Read ; and observe the Books to be very high charged, so that I believe they will not sell. I recommended Parker to you for Books, but he tells me has wrote you several Letters, & in two of them sent a Guinea to purchase some small Things, but never receiv'd, any Answer. Perhaps the Guineas made the Letters miscarry. He is very honest, punctual Man, and Will be in the Way of selling a great many Books ;——I think you might find your Acct in Writing to him. Mr Read having left off Bookselling Osborne has wrote to me, & desired me to take those Books into my Hands, proposing a Correspondence, &c. but I have declin'd it in a Letter per this Ship.——
My spouse will write to Mrs Strahan, to whom my best Respects. By this time twelve month, if nothing extraordinary happen to prevent it, I hope to have the Pleasure of seeing you both in London ; being, with great Esteem & Affection, Dr Sir,

Your obliged Friend & Servt
B. Franklin.

P. S. You will find
Mr Geo. Smith, one of the Witnesses to the Power of Attorney at the Pensilvania Coffee House.
He goes over in this Ship.

Philada April 18. 1754

Dear Sir

By Capt. Gibbon I recieved a Copy of yours pr the Myrtylla, but she's not yet arrived. I am glad to hear the Bills I sent you for 100£ Sterlg. are accepted, and that the Goods were to be ship't soon for Connecticut. Bryant is arrived at New York, who left London the Middle of March; I have not heard wether he has brought them. I now enclose you a Bill for 20£ Sterling, drawn by Mr Stevens on Alex^r Grant Merch^t London; and what Ballance may remain unpaid, I will send as soon as I can know it.

I am glad you have sent again the Things that were ship't in Davis. As to that Loss, give your self no Concern about it. It is mine, and but a Trifle. I do not know or regard what the Custom of Merchants may be in such Cases; but when I reflect how much Trouble I have given you from time to time in my little Affairs, that you never charged me Commissions and have frequently been in Advance for me; were the Loss much greater, to be sure I should not suffer it to fall on you Benj^a Mecom writes me that he has remitted you Thirty Pounds Sterl^g. which I am pleas'd to hear. And am glad you have not sent him the great Parcel of Books, &c. which you mention he has wrote for. He is a young Lad, quite unacquainted with the World, and I fear would be much embarrass'd if he went Suddenly into Dealings too deep for his Stock. The People of those Islands might buy his Books, but I know they are very dull Pay, and he would find it impracticable to collect the money when it ought to be sent you. Pray keep him within Bounds, let him have good salable Sortments, but small, and not Suffer him to be more than Fifty Pounds in your Debt, if so much. It is best for him to proceed gradually, and deal more as his Stock and Experience increases. I am thankful to you for prudently delaying to Send what he so indiscretely wrote for, till you had advis'd me of it. Our Compliments to M^rs. Strahan and your Children.

I am, with great Esteem,

Dr Sir.

Your most humble
Servant
B. Franklin.

Portsmouth, Monday, Aug^{t}
23, 1762 ———

Dear Sir,

I have been two Nights on board expecting to sail, but the Wind continuing contrary, am just now come on shore again, & have met with your kind Letter of the 20$^{th.}$——I thank you even for the Reproofs it contains, tho' I have not altogether deserved them.—— I cannot, I assure you, quit even this disagreable Place without Regret, as it carries me still farther from those I love, and from the Opportunities of hearing of their Welfare. The Attraction of Reason is at present, for the other Side of the Water, but that of Inclination will be for this side. You know which usually prevails. I shall probably make but this one Vibration and Settle here for ever.——Nothing will prevent it, if I can, as I hope I can, prevail with Mrs F. to accompany me; especially if we have a Peace. I will not tell you, that to be near & with you and yours, is any part of my Inducement: It would look like a Complement extorted from me by your pretences to Insignificancy.——Nor will I own that your Persuasions & Arguments have wrought this change in my former Resolutions: tho' it is true that they have frequently intruded themselves, into my Consideration whether I would or not——I trust, however, that we shall once more see each other and be happy again together; Which God &c.

My love to Mrs Strahan, & your amiable and valuable Children. Heaven bless you all; whatever becomes of your much obliged & affectionate Friend

B. FRANKLIN.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. a. l. s. Folio, 3 pages. Philadelphia, Dec. 7, 1762. To Wm. Strahan. With seal and address.

Philad^{l} Dec. 7, 1762

Dear Friend,

I wrote to you some time since to acquaint you with my Arrival, & the kind Reception, I met with from my old and many new Friends, notwithstanding Dr Smith's false Reports in London of my Interest as declining here. I could not wish for a more hearty Welcome, & I never experienc'd greater Cordiality,

We had a long Passage, near ten Weeks from Portsmouth to this Place, but it was a pleasant one; for we had ten Sail in Company and a Man of War to protect us; we had pleasant Weather & fair winds, and frequently visited and dined from Ship to Ship; we call'd too at the delightful Island of Madeira, by way of half-way House, where we replenish'd our Stores, and took in many Refreshments. It was the time of their Vintage, and we hung the Ceiling of the Cabin with Bunches of fine Grapes which serv'd as a Desert at Dinner for some Weeks afterwards. The Reason of our being so long at Sea, was that Sailing with a Convoy, we could none of us go faster than the slowest, being oblig'd every day to shorten Sail, or lay by till they came up; this was the only Inconvenience of our having Company, which was abundantly made up to us by the Sense of greater Safety; the mutual good Offices daily exchanged & the other Pleasures of Society.* It was the Scarboraugh Cap't Stott, who took the greatest care of his little Convoy that can be imagined, & brought us all safely to our several Ports. I wish you would mention this to his Honour in your Paper. I have no Line from you yet, but I hope there is a Letter on its way to me.

My Son is not arrived, & I begin to think he will Spend this Winter with you. Mr Hall I suppose writes by this Ship, I mention'd what you desir'd in your Letter to me at Portsmouth; he informs me he has made some Remittances since I left England, and shall as fast as possible clear the Acct. He blames himself for ordering so large a Cargo at once, and will keep more within Bounds hereafter.—
Mr Hall sends you I believe, for sale, some Poetic Pieces of our young Geniuses;—it would encourage them greatly if their Performance, could obtain any favourable Reception in England;—I wish therefore you would take the proper steps to get them recommended to the Notice of the Publick as far at least as you may find they deserve, I know that no one can do this better than yourself.

You have doubtless long since-done Rejoining on the Conquest of the Havana. It is indeed a Conquest of great Importance; but it has cost us dear, extremely dear, when we consider the Havock made in our little brave Army by Sickness. I hope it will, in the making of Peace, procure us some Advantages in Commerce or Possesion that may in time countervail this heavy Loss we have sustained in that Enterprise.

I must joyn with David in petitioning that you would write all the Politicks ; you have an Opportunity of hearing them all and no one that is not quite in the Secre't of Affairs can judge better of them. I hope the crasy Heads that have been so long raving about Scotchmen & Scotland are by this time either broke or mended.

My dear Love to Mrs Strahan, and bid her be well for all our sakes Remember me affectionately to Rachey & my little wife, & to your promising Sons my young Friends Billy, George & Andrew,—God bless you & let me find you well & happy when I come again to England, happy England! My Respects to Mr Johnson ; I hope he has got the Amonica in order before this time, & that Rachey plays daily with more & more Boldness & Grace, to the absolute charming of all her Acquaintances.

In two years at farthest I hope to settle all my Affairs in such a manner, as that I may then conveniently remove to England, — provided we can persuade the good Woman to cross the Seas. That will be the great Difficulty : but you can help me a little in removing it.

Present my Compliments to all the enquiring Friends, and believe me ever,

My dear Friend,

Yours most affectionately

B. Franklin.

Philad^l Feb. 23, 1763.

Dear Straney,

I have only time to write one Line by this Conveyance, just to congratulate you on the glorious Peace you have made, the most advantageous for the British Nation in my opinion of any your Annals have recorded. The Places you have left or restor'd to the French I look upon to be so much in our Power in case of a future War, as to be so many Hostages or Pledges of their good Behaviour. Love to Mrs Strahan & your Children Billy joins in every affectionate Sentiment, with, Dear Friend,

Your Affectionately,

B. Franklin.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. a. l. s. Folio, 3 pages. Philadelphia, Dec. 19, 1763. To Wm. Strahan.

Philad[a] Dec. 19, 1763.

Dear Straney,

I have before me your Favours of July 16, and Aug[t] 18 which is the latest- It vexes me excessively to see that Parker and Mecom are so much in Arrear with you. What is due from Parker is safe, and will be paid, I think with Interest, for he is a Man as honest as he is industrious & frugal, and has withal some Estate; his Backwardness has been owing to his bad Partners only, of whom he is now nearly quit. But as to Mecom, he seems so dejected & friendless, that I fear little will be got of him. He has dropt his Papers, on which he built his last Hopes. I doubt I shall lose 200£ by him myself, but am taking steps to save what I can for you; of which more fully in my next.

Now I am returned from my long journeys which have consum'd the whole Summer, I shall apply myself to such a Settlement of all my Affairs, as will enable me to do what your Friendship so warmly urges. I have a great Opinion of your Wisdom (Madeira apart) and am apt enough to think that what you seem so clear in, & are so earnest about, must be right. Tho' I own, that I sometimes suspect, my Love to England & my Friends there Seduces me a little, and makes my own middling Reasons for going over, appear very good ones. We shall see in a little Time how Things will turn out.

Blessings on your Heart for the Feast of Politicks you gave me in your last. I could by no other means have obtained so clear a View of the present State of your public affairs as by your Letter. Most of your Observations appear to me extremely Judicious, strickingly clear & true. I only differ from you in some of the melancholly Apprehensions you express concerning Consequences; and to comfort you (at the same time flattering my own Vanity) let me remind you, that I have sometimes been in the right in such Cases, when you happen'd to be in the wrong; as I can prove upon you out of this very Letter of yours. Call to mind your former Fears for the King of Prussia, and remember my telling you that the Man's Abilities were more than equal to all the Force of his Enemies, and that he would finally extricate himself & triumph. This, by the Account you give me from Major Beckwith, is fully verified— You now fear for our virtuous young King, that the factions forming will overpower him, and render his Reign uncomfortable. On the contrary, I am of Opinion, that his Virtue, and the Consciousness of his sincere Intention to make his People happy, will give him Firmness & Steadiness in his Measures, and in the Support of the honest Friends he has chosen to serve him; and when that Firmness is fully perceiv'd, Faction will dissolve & be dissipated like a Morning Fog before the rising Sun, leaving the rest of the Day clear, with a Sky serene & cloudless. Such after, a few of the first years, will be the future Court of his Majesty's Reign, which I predict will be happy & truly glorious. Your Fears for the Nation too, appear to me as little founded. A new War I cannot yet see Reason to apprehend. The Peace I think will long continue, and your Nation be as happy as they deserve to be, that is, as happy as their moderate Share of Virtue will allow them to be. Happier than that no outward Circumstances can make a Nation any more than a private Man— And as to their Quantity of Virtue I think it bids fair for Increasing; if the old Saying, be true, as it certainly is,

Ad Exemplum Regis, &c.

My Love to Mrs Strahan & your Children in which my Wife & Daughter join with

Your ever affectionate Friend

B. Franklin.

First understood P. S.

Extract of a Letter from Philadelphia dated Dec. 19.

The western Indians about Fort Detroit now sue for Peace, having lost a great Number of their best Warriors in their vain Attempt to reduce that Fortress, and being at length assur'd by a Belt from the French Commander in the Ilinois Country, that a Peace is concluded between England and France, that he must evacuate the Country & deliver up his Forts, and can no longer supply or support them It is thought this will draw on a general Peace. I am only afraid it will be concluded before these Barbarians have sufficiently smarted for their perfidious breaking the last.

The Governor of Detroit, Major Gladwin has granted them a Cessation of Arms, till the General's Pleasure is known

Mr Strahan

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. a. l. s. Folio, 2 pages. Philadelphia, June 25, 1764. With address.

Philad^a June 25. 1764

Dear Sir,

I wrote a few Lines to go to you via Liverpool; but they were too late for the Ship, and now accompany this.——

I gave Mr Parker a Power of Attorney to act for you and myself, with respect to Mecom's Affairs, who has, under Oath, surrended all he possess'd into his Hands, to be divided proportionably between us and his other Creditors, which are chiefly Rivington & Fletcher, and Hamilton, and Balfour. The Effects consist of a Printing Press, some tolerably good Letter, and some Books and Stationary. He has render'd particular and exact Accounts, but his All will fall vastly short of Payment. I suppose it will scarce amount to 4 / in the Pound. Parker thinks him honest, and has let him have a small Printing House at Newhaven in Connecticut, where he is now at work;—but having a Wife & a Number of small Children, I doubt it will be long ere he gets anything beforehand, so as to lessen much of his old Debt. I think it would be well for each of his Creditors to take again what remains unfold of their respective Goods, of which there are separate Accounts, and join in impowering Mr Parker to sell the Remainder, to be divided among us. Tho', on second Thought, perhaps the fairest Way, is to sell and divide the whole You can obtain their Sentiments, and send me your own.—As to what Parker owes you, it is very safe, and you must have Interest.

I hope the Bath will fully re-establish good M^rs. Strahan's Health. I enjoy the Pleasure with which you speak of your Children. God has been very good to you, from whence I think you may be assured that he loves you, and that he will take at least as good care of your future Happiness as he has done of your present. What assurance of the Future can be better founded, than that which has been built on Experience of the past?——Thank me for giving you this Hint, by the Help of which you may die as chearfully as you live. If you had Christain Faith, quantum suff. This might not be necessary;—But as Matters are, it may be of Use.——

Your Political Letters are Oracles here. I beseech you to continue them. With unfeigned Esteem, I am, as ever, Dear Friend,

Yours affectionately

Mr Strahan. B. FRANKLIN.

Philad^a Sept. 1 1764

Dear Straney

I received your obliging Letter of June 5.——I find by my Letter Book that I wrote to you May 1. and June 25.——I thought I had sent you one of my Narratives——You cannot conceive the Number of Bitter Enemies that little Piece has rais'd me among the Irish Presbyterians I now send you a Pamphlet that I have written since in favor of our projected Change of Government: and Mr Galloway's Speech with a Preface of mine against the Proprietary Party with whom I am still at War. and who will ere long either demolish me or I them. If the former happens, as possibly it may, Behold me a Londoner for the rest of my Days. At present I am here as much the Butt of Party Rage & Malice, express'd in Pamphlets and Prints, and have as many pelted at my Head in proportion, as if I had the Misfortune of being your Prime Minister.——

I wrote to you that Mecom's Effects were in Parker's Hands.——The following is a Copy of the Receipt he gave for them.——Parker will write to you by the next Packet;——at least I shall urge him to do it.——

New York, April 30, 1764.

"Received of Benjamin Mecom, in Behalf of his "Creditors, and as Attorney particularly appointed by "Benjamin Franklin Esq. of Philadelphia and M^r. "William Strahan of London Sundry Boxes of Books, "A Printing Press, and Printing Materials lately in the "said B. Mecom's Posession, as particularis'd in his Ac-"counts with said Benjamin Franklin, William Strahan, "Rivington & Fletcher, and Hamilton and Balfour,—— "all which I am to account for to my Constituents "which said Ledger is received by me As also the cash "of sundry of said Mecom's Effects. Sold at Auction "amounting to £28.10.7½ an Acc^t of which, and Re-"ceipt for it, is also rendered to him for the same Pur-"pose per me

"JAMES PARKER."

You will consult the others what steps to take for your common Benefit.——

I thank you for your Intelligence concerning your Publick Affairs:—accompanied with your judicious political Reflections.——You can scarcely concieve how acceptable and satisfactory your Letters always are on that Topic to me and my Friends. For my Part, I rely entirely on your Acc^ts & Sentiments;——only making a small Abatement where you forbode any Misfortunes. But that is mere Temper in me, which always loves to view the bright Sides of things——

Will continues very happy in his Government and the affections of the People. He and his Wife were well a few Days since and desir'd their respectful Compliments to you and yours. M^rs. Franklin and Sally join me in every good Wish for you and Mrs Strahan & your valuable Set of Children.——God bless 'em all, and my Peggy as mickle as any two o' them. I want to hear Rachey upon the Armonica;——but her Attention is probably withdrawn from that, by her new Plaything, the Baby, which furnishes more agreeable Musick.

I am, my dear Friend, with sincere Esteem,

Yours most affectionately

B. FRANKLIN.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN. His Original Autograph Report of the Speech of Wm. Pitt, on the Stamp Act, and which Franklin sent to Strahan. 4to, 5 pages. With address and seal.

"Mr Pitt spoke some time before one could divine on which side of the Question relating to America he would be, but beginning first to mention the Stamp Act by the lose Term of that unhappy Act, he went on, and every Time he had Occasion to mention it, it was by a Term still stronger, as unconstitutional unjust oppressive &c. till he finally declar'd in express Terms that the British Parliament had in his Opinion no Right to raise internal Taxes in America, tho' it had to regulate their Commerce & even restrain their Manufactures. He said many Things in favour of America, particularly that they had always readily granted Aids to the Crown in all our Wars, on Requisitions made to their several Assemblies, and particularly in the last War far beyond their Abilities, which the Parl^t here considering has made them some Compensation; that the Act was therefore unnecessary; that no Minister before the last, naming all the Ministers in order from the Revolution, & giving their Characters, some of whom were remarkable for their Firmness and Resolution, as well as their Understanding, had ever thought fit or ventur'd to tax the Colonies; that he himself was sometimes represented as rash enough for any thing, & there had not been wanting some during his Adm^n that urg'd him to it as a thing that would have been acceptable to Gentlemen here, but they could not get him to burn his fingers, with so unnecessary, so unjust, and therefore so odious a Measure; The Arguments of virtual Representation, of the Case of the Colonies being the same with that of Corporations in England or of the Non Electors here, he treated with great Contempt as Trifling insignificant & ridiculous; asserted that Representation in Parl^t was originally & properly of Landed Property; that every 40^s a Year of landed Property in England still is represented by the Owners having a right to vote in Country Elec^d but that tho' a Man in America had 1000£ a Year in Land, it gave him no right to vote for a single Mem- of Parliam^t. That the Representation of the Commons, was not an original Part of the Constitution;—the Owners of Lands only were call'd to Parliam^t & all the Lands in Englan were divided between the King, the Church, & the Barons. The Church, God bless it, had one Third at least. The Commons, were mere Tenants or Copy holders.—But now the Case was greatly alter'd. The Church was stript of most of its Lands, & the Nobles had sold so much of theirs, that what remain'd in their Hands was but like a Drop of the Bucket compar'd to what was now in the Hands of the Commons. It was therefore on Acc^t of their Land properly that the Commons were represented in Parliament. As to the Representation of Burroughs, it was wrong to suffer their sitting in Parlim^t. It was the rotten Part of our Constitution, & could not stand another Century. How could we with any Face maintain, that a Burrough of half a Dozen Houses ought to have a Representative in in Parl^t to take care of its interests; & yet that three Millions of People in America with many Millions of Landed Property should not have a single Vote in the Election of any one Member. Mr. Grenville saying in Defense of the Act that he had before the Measure was entred into, call'd upon the House, & ask'd if there was any one Member that doubted the Right of Parliament to lay an internal Tax on America; & and there was not one, Mr Pitt answered, that, That by no means prov'd the Rectitude of the Measure, for that there had long been in the House a Tenderness of opposing Ministerial Measures, a kind of—— what shall I call it— Modesty, that made the Members rather doubt their own judgements. He wished therefore that the young Members would apply themselves more to the Study of Publick Affairs, & qualifie themselves better to judge of them.— That their Silence should be no Proof of the goodness of a ministerial Measure, he reminded the House, that from Year to Year he had in the same Manner call'd upon the House, to know if any one dislik'd our then Continental Connections, and but one ever took the Freedom to speak his Mind on that Head, & he should like him the better for it as long as he liv'd; "for he indeed said frankly "that he did not like what he was pleas'd to call my German War" But with the rest it went down glibly.—That Oppositions were generally interested; but his Sentiments of this Act had always been the same; & he had ever dislik'd it as destructive to Liberty; a Word often made use of by ambitious Men only as a Horse on which they might mount and ride into Preferment but he had no such Views.—— Mr Conway remark'd on this, that the Preferment he was in was not of his own seeking; and that whenever the hon^ble. Gentleman, for whose Abilities Integrity he had the highest Veneration, should be, as he sincerely hop'd he soon be, appointed to supersede him, he should with great Pleasure mount his Horse & ride out again.

These are the Particulars you chiefly desir'd an Acc^t of 'Tis the best I can give you. But I am sensible the Expression is far short of that used by the Speakers.——

Dear Son

Dining to day with Mr Potts, I hear that Letters go by this Night's Post to Falmouth for the Chance of reaching the Packet. Therefore I write this Line just to say, that I received yesterday a Line from the Treasury acquainting me that Mr Kollock is appointed upon my Recommendation to be Collector of Levies. I shall be more particular in my next.

Dear Friend

Thro' Storms & Floods I arrived here on Saturday night, late, & was lodg'd miserably at an Inn: But that excellent Christian David Hume, agreable to the Precepts of the Gospel, has received the Stranger, and I now live with him at his House in the new Town most happily I purpose staying about a Fortnight, and shall be glad to hear from you, I congratulate you on certain political Events that I know gives you Pleasure. Let me know how it is with you & yours, how my wife does, and Sir John Pringle, and our other Friends. With sincerest Esteem I am, my Dear Friend.

Dear Sir.

I send you enclos'd the Letter you desire. But as I am apprehensive that the young Gentleman may have flattered himself with Expectations that are never likely to be answered in that Country, I wish he would consider it well before he undertakes such a Voyage. If he will take the Trouble of calling on me, perhaps I may afford him some useful Lights on the Subject

I have not yet seen in the Vol. of 1773 what you mention

I am glad to hear that Mad^a la Duchesse d'Enville & the amiable Family were well. With the greatest Esteem & Respect.

P. S. I have read with the highest Pleasure your excellent eloge de M C'Hopital.—I knew you before as a great Mathematician. I now consider you as one of the first among the Politicans of Europe.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM. a. l. s. Folio, 2 pages. Burlington, Oct. 14, 1763. To Wm. Strahan. With address.

Burlington, Oct. 14, 1763

Dear Strahan,

In the Name of God what have I said or done to you, that so many months' should elapse, & so many Vessels arrive, without my having the Pleasure, of a single Line from you since my arrival in America. I can't help imagining that you must have wrote, & the Letter miscarried; but M^rs F^r says, she thinks you have quite forgot us, now we have left England, & that you will not trouble yourself about us any more. I hope she is mistaken, & that you will enable me to prove her so. I know you have a deal of business on your Hands, & perhaps have not had time to attend to the little Affairs which you were so kind as to undertake to transact for me. If this is the Case, I beg you would not put yourself to any inconvenience on my Account, but acquaint me with it as soon as you can conveniently, that I may employ some other Friend, who has more leisure,

I wrote to you on the 25th of April & on the 27th of June. In the last I sent you an Order on H Brown & Sons for 25 £ on my Account. I find by a Letter from Messrs Sargent & Anfrere, that they have paid you a Ballance due to me of £6. 4. 1 They have since received the Return for my Insurance, amounting to 51£ which I have wrote to them, by this vessel, to pay to you on your Order. I hope you have long before this receiv'd the 50 £ due to me from Goble. Mrs. F has wrote to Miss Clarke to purchase some Shoes &c for her, & to draw upon you for the Money, which please to pay & charge to my Account.—I should be glad you would send me a State of my Account with you, as soon as is convenient.

Queries. Pray have you receiv'd the King's Picture &c from the Jewel Office? Have you got my Picture from Wilson? and the Miniatures from Meyers or Jefferies? Has Chamberlyne got the Prints done? Have you sent me the Letter containing the Will, which I desired you to do from Plymouth?

As I hear my good Friend Parson Smith has taken the Liberty (even before he could hear of my Arrival here) to propagate a Report that my Appointment to this Government was disagreeable to the People, I could have wish'd that you had publish'd some of the Addresses to me, & my Speech, &c which were sent over to you. I believe no Governor was ever more affectionately receiv'd by all Ranks of People. Even with those from whom I might have expected opposition I am upon very good Terms. And as a convincing Proof of my Influence, I have carried two Points which the Crown has long had at Heart, & which former Governors have often unsuccessfully attempted. In short, there is no more Foundation for Smith's Report than there is for believing him an honest Man.

I am oblig'd to write this in a great Hurry less I miss the Opportunity; which prevents my adding any Thing of News, or other Affairs. I must therefore refer you to Mr Hall's Papers, & to the Bearer, Mr Reed, a young Gentn of this Province who goes over for his Improvement in the Law; and whom I take the liberty of recommending to your Notice as a Friend of mine, & a Person of Merit.

Mrs F says she cannot help loving you for all and joins in good Wishes for you & Mrs Strahan, with

Dear Sir,

Your most humble Servant,

Please to insert the Addresses of the Trustees of the College, which you will see in one of the last Papers. I suppose you have already inserted the Speech.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM. a. l. s. 4to, 3 pages. Burlington, Nov. 5, 1763. To Wm. Strahan. With address and seal.

Burlington, Novr 15, 1763

Sir.

The Assembly of this Province have just met upon my Summons, in order to raise some Men to go against the Indians, & and I am this Moment to make my Speech to them, so that this can little more than serve to acknowledge the Receipt of your letter by Tillet, & to desire your Care of the Enclosed, the Postage of which you must charge to me. The Reason of my giving you this Trouble is because I have heard that some of my Letters to the Publick Officers have some how or other miscarried.—Lord Egremont I hear is dead, but the Letter should notwithstanding be left at Whitehall & I should be oblig'd to you to give the Letter for the Board of Trade to Mr Pownall, & to have Lord Shelburne's Letter lef at his House.

If the several Things which you mention to be of Crimson Damask are not made up before this comes to hand, I should be glad you would prevent it, & let the whole Quantity of Crimson Silk Damask to be given me, be changed for as much Yellow Silk & Worsted Damask as comes to the same Value. As the latter is cheaper than the other I may probably get by the Exchange sufficient for three Window Curtains, to suit some Yellow Damask Chairs & Furniture I have in my Dining Room. The Fringe may likewise be changed for Yellow Fringe or Binding as may be judged most proper for the Curtains by the Upholsterer M$^{rs.}$ F desires you will employ M$^{r.}$ Timothy Golding Upholsterer in Brewer Street near Golden Square, as she is acquainted with him, & thinks he will do it in best & most reasonable manner when he knows it is for her.—— The Curtains are to be 3 yards & ¼ long, & 4 Breadths in each Curtain ;—to be hung Festoon Fashion He will probably take the Trouble of getting the Damask chang'd—If the Things should however be made up, the Office will I believe allow you for the Value of them in Money as they will do for other Governors ;—If they should not produce sufficient for the Curtains, let the Remainder be purchased, & charged to my Account ; & when I know the Amount of Golding's Bill I will remit the Money.—The Pictures &c. may be sent as soon as convenient.——

My Father desires M$^{r.}$ Chamberlyn would make a good Copy of his Picture which was done for Col. Ludwell. Let it be put in a handsome Gilt Frame, & sent over, as soon as it can be well done, to him.—We are all well & join in Love to you & Mrs. Strahan—I am

Dear Sir.

WM. FRANKLIN.

Burlingn. May 1, 1764

Dear Sir.

Yours of the 26th of Decn. with a short Postscript of Jany. 30, is come to hand. The above is a Copy of the Letter I sent per Friend which you mention not to have received. I suppose it is now too late to have the Contents comply'd with. Be pleased in that Case, to tell Mr. Golding to make the Curtains notwithstanding, according to the above Directions, & I will remit the Money as soon as I know the Amount. And if the Plate be not sent away before this reaches you, I should be glad to have it commuted for a handsome Silver Waiter, large enough to hold four Cups & Saucers with the Cream Pot ;—a Quart Tankard with a Top to it ;—a Pint Cann ;—& a half Pint Cann. The Tankard & Canns to be quite plain.——Mr. Jeffries has done these kind of Things for other Governors, & I doubt not will do the same for me. Should there be a Ballance coming to him let him charge it to me, as I shall have other Dealings with him.—The Bible & three of the Prayer Books may be sent over, & the rest may be disposed of.—I hope you have rec'd the 51 £ from Messrs. S. & Aufrere, if you have not 'twill be paid on your sending for it.—Next Week I entend going to Philada when I shall purchase a Bill & send you, & write you more particularly than I can at present.—My Reason for not writing you any American Politics was because this Province afforded nothing of any Consequence, & I have been so taken up as not to attend to the Affairs of others. As to what passes in Pensylv.a I suppose my Father & Mr. Hall give you full Accounts. Both that Province & Maryland seem to be in a State of Anarchy, & unless the King takes them under his immediate Government (which all but the Proprietary officers & Dependants are anxious for) the worst of Consequences will probably ensue.—I believe (but you must not mention it) that you will see my Father again in England shortly, as the Inhabitants are very desirous he should take another Voyage there, in order to obtain a Change of Government. He has published two Pamphlets lately, One called a Narrative of the Murder of the Indians at Conestogœ, & another Cool Thoughts, &c. which are not too large for your Chron. & I believe most of your Readers will be glad to see them there, I suppose Mr. H. sends them. A Period will probably be put to the Indian War this Summer. Sir Wm. Johnson has made Peace with the Senecas. They deliver up the Indians who first fell upon our Frontiers; grant a large Tract round Niagara to the King & his Heirs, with a free Transportation over that Portage to all His Majesty's Subjects, without Fee or Reward. They have given Hostages for the Performance of the Articles; & have joined the rest of the Confederated Nations against our Enemies Sir Wm. expects great Things from all of them; Near 400 are now out against the Enemy Indians—I was much entertained with your Letter to my Father. It made me imagine myself present at the Debates.—Mrs. F. is uneasy at not receiving a Box which Miss Clarke mentions to have been d^d. to you the 8th. of Jan.ry. ——We continue well & happy. Our best Wishes attend you & Mrs. Strahan—I am, Dear Sir,

Yours affectionately

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM. a. l. s. 2 pages. Burlington, Dec. 18, 1763. To Wm. Strahan. With address and seal.

Burlington, Decr. 18, 1763.

Dear Sir,

I have by Capt. Friend acknowledged the Receipt of yours by Tillet, together with the Tea & Cheese. Since which I have receiv'd yours of Octr. 8, by Handie, but the 2 Boxes from Mrs. Hughes, & the one containing th Metzotintos, are not yet got to hand, owing to the Ice which has rendered the River impassable for the Stage Boats. This same Ice too has I hear frightened Budden so, that he intends to put off immediately, less he should be shut up for the Winter. As we are not likely to have another Vessel sail from hence till the Spring, I intended to have wrote you a long Letter, but it is now out of my Power, and I question if even these few Lines will be in Time for Budden.

I am much obliged to you for inserting my first Speech, & and I know desire you will insert my Second, together with the Assembly's Address in Answer. They will give you an Idea of our Situation with regard to the Indians. You will find them both in Mr. Hall's Papers sent by this Opportunity. The Title of the Governor, if put at length to the Speech, should be the same as that to the Address, the first being wrong printed And in the last Part of the Paragraph relative to the Militia Law, instead of the Words [to you as absolutely necessary] insert [so your Consideration].——I have still a perfect Harmony with every Body in the Province, & shall not fail to follow the good Advice you give me for that Purpose. My hearty Thanks are due to you on that as well as many other Occasions.

I wish the King & Queen's Pictures were finished, as there is no Picture of either of them (except the Prints) yet sent to N. America Please to tell Mr. Myers if it is possible that he has not yet finish'd the Miniatures) that Mrs. Franklin would be glad to have them made a little fatter, as I have increas'd considerably in Flesh since I left London; But Care must be taken not to alter the Likeness. She would likewise be glad to have my Father's Picture from Mr. Chamberlyne's (which I wrote for in my Last) & mine from Mr. Wilson's, as our Dining Room remains unfurnised for Want of them.— Please to ask Mr. Wilson if he receiv'd a Letter I wrote to him soon after my Arrival here?— I refer you to my Letter per Friend, with regard to what I would have done with the Crimson Damask, &c. which you were to receive for me.

I hope you have receiv'd the 51£ from Messrs. S. & Aufrere. I dont believe I shall have Money enough in your Hands to answer all the Demands that will be made on you for sundry Things I have ordered from England, but I shall soon remit you a Bill. Miss Clark will have I believe upward of 30£ to receive. Miss Smith 5£ besides what I wrote to you to pay Mr. Small, &c.—I should be glad Becket wd. send me all the Vols. of Rutthead, Statues now published, & the other Vols. as they come out; Also the Numbers printed of Mills's Husbandry, & those monthly Pieces of some Gentn. of the Society of Arts. These may be directed for me to the Care of Mr. Hall, as I wd. have every thing you send for me.

We are greatly rejoic'd to hear Mrs. Strahan is so well recovered. You have both of you our Wishes for a long uninterrupted State of Health & Happiness.—

I am, Dear Sir,

Yours affectionately

WM. FRANKLIN.

P. S. Hall has promis'd to send me the Politics of your Letters, but he has not done it.—

The Things which Miss Clarke may send please to forward to Mr. Hall, & insure them with his goods. I will settle it with him.

Excuse Haste.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM. a. l. s. Folio, 4 pages. Burlington, Feby 18, 1765. To Wm. Strahan.

Burlington, Feb^ry. 18, 1765

Dear Sir.

I perceive by the Chronicle that my Letter to you of Septr. 21 (which enclosed you a second Bill for 30£ Sterling) has got safe to hand, as you have therein published an Extract of it, for which I am much obliged to you. But wether you receiv'd mine of May 1, 1764, containing the first Bill for 30£, I have not heard. The last Letter I have receiv'd from you is dated Mar. 23, 1764. But as I have since receiv'd some Tea and Shoes which you were so good as to forward for me to M^r. Hall, I doubt not but you have also wrote, tho' I have not had the Pleasure of receiving your Letter. I have a great Suspicion that some of the Proprietary Politicians in Pennsylvania have been mean enough to intercept many of my Letters from England, in hopes of finding something of which they may take advantage; for I have of late receiv'd several Things from different Persons in England without any Letter accompaning them. For the future, be pleased to send your Letters to me under Cover to Messrs. Baynton and Warton Merchants in Philadelphia.——

I have no Copy of the Letter I sent you in June, but I remember it contain'd the first Bill for 30£, and an Acknowledgment of the Receipt of the Trunk containing the Common Prayer Books, Damask, &c. In mine of Novr 15, 1763. I desired you get the Silk Damask changed for some Silk & Worsted Damask, & to have it made into Curtains for my Dining Room by M^r. Timothy Golding, Upholsterer in Brewer Street near Golden Square, who having formerly work'd for M^rs. Franklin & her Brother's Family would perhaps make them more reasonably than others. But as that Letter miscarried, & as I thought the Damask would probably be sent over. I desired you in my Letter of May 1, to tell M^r. Golding to make the Curtains notwithstanding, according to these Directions, viz. "Three Curtains of Yellow "Silk and Worsted Damask; Each Curtain to be Three "Yards & a Quarter long.—to contain four Breadths of "the Damask—and to be hung Festoon Fashion." And I likewise desired that if the Chapel Plate was not sent away, that you would have it commuted for a handsome Silver Waiter (large enough to hold four Cups & Saucers with the Cream Pot), A Quart Tankard with a Top—a Pint Cann,—& a half Pint Cann. The Tankard & Canns to be quite plain.—If you have not receiv'd those Letters, and already sent the Things, I should be glad you would as soon after the Receipt of this as you can conveniently.—The Canns indeed if not sent, may be omitted, as I have been obliged to purchase such here.—Mr. Jefferies, the King's Cutler, has been used to commute Things of this kind for other Governors, & will I doubt not readily do the same for me I should be glad to have your Account as soon suits your Convenience. The Ballance due to you, I desired my Father to pay, which he promised.—I have not receiv'd the Books from Becket which I wrote for, & perhaps he has omitted to send them.

We have not heard anything from my Father since he sail'd, but I hope he has been safely landed in England at least two Months ago. Since he left us, Mr. Allen, one of the principal Propry. Tools in Pensylvania, has employ'd that Miscreant Parson Smith, & two or three other Prostitude Writers to asperse his Character, in which they have been very industrious. However, they have lately receiv'd a terrible Shock from Mr. Hughes, one of my Father's Friends, who being incensed at their base Conduct published an Advertisement sign'd with his Name, in which he promised that if Mr. Allen, or any Gentn. of Character, would undertake to justify the Charges brought against Mr. Franklin, he would pay 10 £ to the Hospital for every one they should prove to the Satisfaction of impartial Persons, provided they would pay 5 £ for every Falshood he should prove they had alledg'd against Mr. Franklin. But this Challenge they were afraid to accept, & therefore still kept their Names concealed; but as they thought that something must be done, they endeavoured to turn Mr Hughes's Challenge into Ridicule, & raise the Laugh against him by an anonymous Answer. He, however, published a Reply, with his Name subscribed, in which he has lash'd them very severely for their Baseness. Not being able to answer this, they employ'd one Dove, a Fellow who has some Talent, for the lowest kind of Scurrility, to publish a Print, with some Verses annex'd, vilifying my Father & some of the most worthy Men of the Province. By way of Revenge some Writer has attack'd them in their own Way, & turn'd all Dove's Verses against Mr. Allen, he being the Head of the Propry. Party. This has enraged him excessively as those Verses & the Print had cost him upwards of 25 £. You will probably have seen, before this reaches you, the Advertisement, Answer, & Reply, as they were printed in Mr. Hall's Newspaper, & therefore I send you the enclosed Pamphlet, which is likely to put a Stop to that kind of writing here for the future, as was the Intention of the Author.——The Malice of the Propry Party against my Father, on Account of his wanting to bring about a Change of Government, is beyond all Bounds. They glory in saying & doing Things to destroy his Character that would make even Devils blush If he does not succeed I know not what will become of the Province as there is such a rooted Hatred among a great Majority of the People against the Propry. Family.—Do let me hear what you think of his Undertaking, &c. &c.—

Pray hasten Mr. Ramsay with the King & Queen Picture, & send it over with mine at Mr. Wilsons.——

Mr. Stockton, the Gentleman who will deliver you this, is a considerable Lawyer of this Province, & a particular Friend of mine. Give me leave to recommend him to your Acquaintance, and to desire that you would treat him with the Sight of Sl. Johnson, & a few more of your Authors; for we Americans when we go to England, have as much Curiosity to see a live Author as Englishmen have to see a live Ostrich, or Cherokee Sachem.

Burlington, Jan.ry 29, 1769—

Dear Sir—

If a due Sense of one's Fault is any Step towards Amendment, I may hope that I shall hereafter become a more regular Correspondent; for never was Man more asham'd of, nor angry with, himself, than I have been on Account of my having so long neglected acknowledging the Receipt of your Favor by Mr. Alexander. I have nothing to plead in Excuse, bnt that it was constantly in my Intention to write, and that tho' I have somehow or other, from time to time, omitted doing it, yet it was never owing to any Abatement of that Regard and Friendship which I have ever entertain'd for you, from our first Acquaintance. It gives me, indeed, much Concern, that there should be such a Chasm in our Correspondence; But as the Business of my Office occasions me a great deal of Writing, and as my Income (my necessary Expences considered) will not allow me to keep even a private Secretary or Clerk to copy my Dispatches, it is not possible that I should keep up so constant & regular a Correspondence with my Friends as I could wish. I have shewn, and shall continue to shew. Mr. Alexr all the Civilities, & render him all the Service in my Power, both on his own Account and your Recommendation. He has been for several Weeks together at my House, and I employ'd him in doing as much Painting as came to ninety Guineas, besides getting him Business in that way from several of my Friends. So that if he don't succeed in recovering his Lands (which, however, I believe he will) he cannot be any great Loser by his Voyage. He was last Year depriv'd of the Use of his Limbs by a fit of Sickness, but is since recovered & got to work again.

This will be delivered to you by a particular Friend of mine, Mr Samuel Wharton Merchant of Philadelphia; who I beg leave to recommend to your Civilities. He is a Gentleman of Character & Abilities, and, from what he has heard me say of you, is very desirous of the pleasure of being of your Acquaintance.—I dare say you will like him, and I am sure he will like you—I long much to have a Chat with you on our American Affairs, which are really become very critical. But I durst not trust my Sentiments on that Subject to a Letter for fear of Accident. Mr. Wharton, however, is capable of giving you very exact Information of the State of Affairs on this Side the Water. We wait with Impatience to hear the Result of this Session of Parliament with respect to America—Your Letters of political Intelligence, which Mr. Hall generally publishes in his Paper, afford us, from time to time, the best Information we receive of what is doing in Parliament, it containing many interesting Particulars, & little Anecdotes, which we have not thro' any other Channel.

Mrs. Franklin & I were much concern'd at the Loss you sustain'd in the Death of your very amiable Daughter Johnston. We hope her Children are well, & afford you & Mrs. Strahan a good deal of Comfort. Our best wishes attend you both—Remember me kindly to your Son William, and to my young Mother, who, I suppose, is now grown a Woman, and will, ere long add to her & your Happiness, by taking unto herself a Husband. I heartily wish her a good one, and am, with the sincerest Regards,

Dear Sir,

I am obliged to you for yours of June 17, & for the Care you took in sending my Letter from my Father. It is dated April 24. Dear Sir,

I sent the enclosed Packet to New York this Day, in order to go by Capt. Lawrence, but was returned to me by my Friend there, with an Acct. of Capt. Lawrence having sailed yesterday. But as Capt. Coupar is to sail from thence to London on Tuesday, my Friend advises me to put my Packet under cover to some private Person in London, in whom I can confide, and send it by him. I have therefore taken the Liberty to enclose it to you, as otherwise there would be danger of its being opened by some of the Sons of Liberty at New York if seen in Capt. Coupar's Bag, or, perhaps by some of his Passengers. This too will excuse me for not directing to you as Member of Parliament or King's Printer.

Your Favor of th 5th. of Febry. by Falconer came to hand last week, and shall be answered fully as soon as I have any Leisure. At present I have scarcely Time to subscribe myself.

Dear Sir,

My last to you was dated the 30th. of November. This is just to advise you that I have this Day drawn on you, in two Sets of Exchange, for Two hundred and forty-three Pounds Fifteen Shillings Sterling, payable to Mr. Frederic Wm. Geyer, or Order, Tens Days after sight.—One Set for 100£ and the other for £143.15:0—This is for a half Year's Allowance, after the Deduction of Six-pence in the Pound, There was a Year's allowance due on the 5th of last Month, the whole of which, I suppose, you have received Quarterly as it became due.

We have no News of any Consequence but what you will see in the public Papers. If what is contained in that published this Day (as brought from the West Indies) prove true it must be attended with the greatest Advantages to the British Interest

In haste, but ever
Yours affectionately

REMARKS.

PROBABLY never before has such a remarkable collection as this been placed before the public, and one in which the general public could be more interested. On every page will be found some item which cannot fail to attract the eye and interest of the reader. After glancing over the catalogue, my patrons will wonder, as I have, how and where Governor Pennypacker found so many treasures. Were they presented to him? Did he have the entrée into the treasure chests of our first settlers? Why did the owner part with them? Such questions as these will surely arise when reflecting on the many personal and family manuscripts included herein, and like questions will arise as to the personal association books, which appear in such number. They are, however, nothing more or less than the fruits of nearly a half century of incessant research and toil of a lover of the past; of one delving into the unfrequented paths of antiquity in the search for historical data and information. And this collection is a magnificent monument to the usefulness of the antiquary, in the preservation of documents and tomes which would probably have been destroyed through the carelessness of their owners, had not his forethought seen their use as records of history and mementoes of those who were great, and likely to be forgotten but for these mute witnesses of their one-time existence. Hours, days, weeks, months and years has Governor Pennypacker spent in untiring research. No manuscript was too discolored for him to pass over carelessly, no volume too unpretentious for him to cast aside without first examining its contents, as well as any inscriptions which might appear thereon. Consequently, we have here a really wonderful gathering of Manuscripts, Diaries and Commonplace Books of many of the most important personages of Colonial and Revolutionary times—books from the libraries of Great Generals, Statesmen, Divines, Poets and others, elegantly Illuminated Vellum Missals, Church Chorals, and Antiphonalias. These are so numerous and important that to make intelligent mention of them in these remarks would really necessitate a repetition of their descriptions, so we can only ask that the recipient of the catalogue will read it with especial care, as he cannot help being benefited from the information contained herein.

In closing, I would state that with the personal association books we have included Governor Pennypacker's large collection relating to General Washington, his unique collection of Confederate imprints, and last, and perhaps of most consequence, his magnificent and all-important collection of Original Drawings of Revolutionary Battle Plans and Maps. These latter were drawn and colored by a French Engineer under General Lafayette, and were used by him while campaigning with General Washington, and include the only original contemporary Plan of the Winter Encampment at Valley Forge, Plans of the Battles of Trenton, Princeton, and Siege of Yorktown, in fact no public library can boast of such possessions as these, with them also is the original map of Wolfe's campaign against Quebec, one of the most important events in the world's history, drawn by the British engineer, aided by two engineers from the provincial troops.

Crown 8vo, half calf.

Collected by E. D. Ingraham in the early part of the nineteenth century, with his autograph letter relating to them, and newspaper clippings, American and English, concerning "Jim Crow" inserted. Bookplate of Robert C. Davis. An unique and invaluable collection.

7 AMERICAN WARS AND POLITICS. A History of the American Colonial War and Politics, from 1757 to the Close of the Second War with Great Britain. Composed of Extracts from all the Leading English Magazines and Newspapers of the Time. With many rare and valuable maps. Mounted on specially prepared paper.

Bound in 3 vols. Thick 4to, half red morocco, gilt, top edge gilt.

A unique and invaluable collection, to compile which has caused the destruction of files of the leading English magazines and newspapers of the time. The compilation commences with the French and Indian War, and continues with the Stamp Act troubles, the breaking out of the Revolution and the termination of that war, and the causes which led to, and result of, the second war with Great Britain. We doubt whether there is such another work in existence, and its value to the historian is incalculable.

At a meeting of the most respectable Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Township of Mansfield, County of Burlington and Province of New Jersey, Convend by Advertisement at the usual place of Doing Publick business, August the 13th. 1770.

Whereas the Merchants and Freeholders of the City of New York have most basely and in direct violation of their Publick faith plighted to the other Colonies, broke through their Non-Importation Agreement to the great encouragement of the Enemies to American Freedom, and manifest injury of their Fellow-Subjects We the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Township afores.d well knowing the very fatal Consequences that must inevitably result from a general Importation of Merchandize from Great Brittain at this Critical Juncture do Resolve.

1st That we owe and will maintain all due Allegiance to our rightfull Sovereign George the third King of Great Brittain France & Ireland &c.a

2d That we are as much the natural Subjects of the Dominion of Great Brittain as any born within the Realm, and that as such we have an undoubted right to all the Priviledges of its happy Constitution.

3d That one of the Capital Priviledges of the British Constitution is that of the Subjects being taxed by his Representative only and that the Late Act of Parlament imposing a duty on Tea Glass &c.a unconstitutional & Oppressive.

4th That as a Testamony to the World of our disapprobation of the New-Yorker's Conduct we will not purchase nor suffer to be Purchased by any under our direction any Goods or Merchandize from the Inhabitants of the Colony of New-York nor of any Person or Persons that shall or may purchase, procure or receive them directly or Indirectly from thence, untill the aforesaid Act imposing Imposing a duty on Tea &c.a is totally repealed.

Facsimile Page of Lot 104, Reduced.

5th That we will not Purchase nor suffer to be purchased by any under our direction any Goods or Merchandize from any Pedlar or Petty Chapman, but will always strictly inquire into their Authority to Sell or vend Goods, as it cannot possibly be ascertaind of whom they Purchase or from whence they receive them.

6th That any Person or Persons who may be Suspected of having in Possession any Goods or Merchandize Imported in, brough from or through the Province of New York, who Shall refuse when requested by any Person or Persons hereafter appointed for the purpose to give an Acct. in what manner they came by such Goods &ca shall be deemd Guilty of a violation of this agreement, and his her or their names shall be publish'd in order that they may be handed down with deserv'd infamy to Posterity.

7th That we will exert ourselves by every Legal & Constitutional means in our power to aid & Assist all those generous Friends of American Freedom who nobly sacrifice their Private Interest to Serve the publick Good.

8th That Robert Field, William Potts, Peter Talman, Clayton Newbold, & John Black be a Committee to examine into the Trade the Majority to hear all Complaints determin & Punish Offenders according to the true intent & meaning of these Resolutions as also to correspond with other Committees as occasion may require, and to Publish these resolves with part or all of the other Towns in the County when and where they may think proper 9th That all these resolves with the Advertisement Preparative thereto be entered on the record of the Town and strictly adhered to untill the same shall be made Void by a general Town Meeting to be call'd by the Committee aforesaid.

Including Several New Songs by Burns, together with about Fifty Other Pieces of Engraved Music, and forty pages of manuscript music, part written at the dictation of Thomas Moore and part in his own autograph.

Bound in 1 vol. 4to, half calf.

A volume of exceptional interest, and one that evidently was closely connected with the production of Moore's "Irish Melodies." According to a note written at the end of a manuscript list of the contents, "Thomas Moore used this book—both the engraved and Ms parts—when visiting the Town House (Dublin) of the Dwyers of Clare. Some of the MS music is written at his dictation and some in his autograph. His use of the Burns portion was continuous for many years. He conducted small concerts in this house enlisting the talents of the family with great effect." Most likely it was for one of these concerts that he wrote four new verses to two of the printed songs, and the first verse of "The Irish Emigrant," with pianoforte accompaniment. Among the engraved pieces is "The Life Boat," from "M. P.; or, The Blue Stocking," a comic opera by Moore, but which, in his works, is not given as being from that opera.

Illuminated Antiphonalia.

409 VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. Antiphonalia. A beautiful and large vellum manuscript of the 14th century, written in Latin, in large old Gothic letters, in black and red, with the musical score, on 240 leaves with numerous large and small capitals in red and blue, four superb and large capital letters highly illuminated with burnished gold and colors, containing miniatures, one of which is the "Nativity," three smaller capital letters in burnished gold and colors, and fifty-seven large capital letters in red and blue, etc.
Large folio, 22 in. by 15¼ in. Old calf, oak boards, with brass bosses and ornamentations, leather clasps.

An unique and extraordinary specimen of a 14th century Antiphonalia. The opening initial letter is a large "H" in gold and colors, enclosing a beautiful miniature. Some few of the leaves have been repaired. The binding is a curious and genuine specimen of 14th century brass work, pierced metal of Gothic design, at the corners and along the edges are trefoil ornamentations in old brass. Frequently repeated through the book are the "Agnus Dei," the "I. H. S." with cross, "St. John" with letters "M. B.," a lamb with letters "X. X," and on the back and edges are 27 large brass nails. The leather clasps are a modern duplication. On the cover of the catalogue is a reduced facsimile of one of the initial letters in this beautiful monument of antiquity.

Illuminated Vellum Book of Offices.

410 VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. Preparationes Ante Missam dicende secundum consuetudinem Romane Curie. Handsome manuscript of eighty-two leaves (164 pages) of vellum in red and black large Gothic script, with the musical score, Seventy-two large illuminated capitals in colors on a golden background, two of these being very large; two hundred and ninety-eight smaller illuminated capitals, numerous finials and ornaments in the text, also in colors heightened with gold.

Large 4to, (18⅝ in. by 10 in.), embossed calf. Saec XV

Unique original manuscript of the 15th century and office book, being "Preparation before Mass." This was at one time in the library of the Right Honorable William Lord Viscount Charlemount, and his heraldic bookplate is on inside of cover. The vellum is white and of excellent quality, and the numerous lustrously brilliant initial letters and finials throughout are superb examples of the best conventional Gothic illumination. Rarely do we find an "Office Book" finished in the magnificent style of the above chaste decoration The text is altogether in Latin, and the manuscript is of early English workmanship. See reduced facsimile of one page.

Illuminated Vellum Liturgy.

The only one in existence associated with an American family.

411 VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis, cum Calendario. French Manuscript, 15th Century, Liturgical Devotions in Latin, other Prayers in vernacular, written on one hundred and fifty leaves of fine Vellum, 6½ x 4¾ inches, in fine character, with titles varied in red and blue, decorated on every page with richly gilt and flowered outside border, continued in several instances round the entire margin, Seven Sacred Scenes splendidly illuminated, including figures, landscapes and interiors, and enclosed in magnificent full-page border of extreme freshness and brilliancy, capital letters of different degrees heavily blazoned in gold, and scrolled with exquisite grace and freedom, the principal initials forming a series kindred in design. On the fly-leaf is a record of the ownership of the book in the 16th and 17th Centuries.

Brown calf, Lyonese binding of the 16th Century, covered with gold tooling, gilt edges. Sæc. X V.

A volume of endless interest to the artist and antiquarian, and of special attraction for the liturgiologist. Each day of the Calendar has its saint, the interstices between the red-letter days being filled with names specially honored in French dioceses. The Hours differ considerably from those of the Roman rite, and the devotions in honor of St. Sebastian and St. Christopher at the end of the volume are rarely, if ever, to be met with. The floral borders are of exceeding beauty, golden ivy leaves and berries being a chief feature, largely diversified by the introduction of strawberries, carnations, heartsease, convoluli, cornflowers, etc., while the full borders are further enriched by elegant frond-like scrolls of conventional character, together with foliage of natural tint. The interest of these borders increases with the progress of the book, one in particular (just anterior to the 6th miniature) being finished with surpassing delicacy. These decorations, in themselves a field inexhaustible for study, do but prepare us for a due appreciation of the splendor of the pages chosen by the artist for his miniatures. To do justice to these the pen of a Ruskin would be needed. Brocaded tapestries, meadows of emerald green, graceful grasses daintily defined, clustering groves, gold-flecked skies, figures draped in perfection of flowing folds, crimson, blue, white and purple, and crowned with angelic countenances—all the features typical of the 15th Century miniaturist are present in the seven illustrations of this book of private prayer. The set includes—(1) The Annunciation, (2) The Crucifixion, (3) Pentacost, (4) David in Prayer, (5) An Entombment, (6) Madonna and Child, (7) God the Father, with the dead figure of the Son detached from the Cross. Numbers 6 and 7 have each an attendant angel, one playing a harp and the other holding a crown of thorns. Into both of these pictures is introduced a figure in the foreground which, according to the inscription on the fly-leaf, is that of the first owner of the book. A seriatim description of the remainder is not possible here. We must be content to say that each one is instinct with devotional fervor, blended with artistic feeling. The lovely borders which fence in these miniatures are a worthy framework, firm, crisp, fair and resplendent, in defiance of centuries, a bolder treatment being adopted than in the case of the marginal adornments just alluded to. Lightness of touch, combined with the most accurate decision exemplified in the thread-like use of the white, lends an exquisite charm not only to the strongly drawn lines which define the limits of the picture as distinct from the border, but also to the grand initials below. The early history of this prayer manual is briefly inscribed on the fly-leaf, which tells us that "Ces heures apertiennent à damoisselle Michel le du Dere femme de Mr. Loys d'Orleans . les quelles luy sont echeues par la succession de feu son pere Mr. John Duderé. 1577. Amour et Humilité sont les doux liens de notre mariage."

And again it is touchingly recorded: "Ce prest, liure ma este donné par feu Monsieur Dorleans fils de Mdlle. Dorleans nomée Michelle Dudere lequel estoit. aveugle et qui estoit digne de cette affliction mon cousin germain. G. Dudere, 1650,

In an ancient manuscript note in old French, on the fly-leaf of this volume it says: "The kneeling figures in the pictures in this volume are portraits of the deceased Lady Michelle De Saulai (Duderé) mother of my deceased father."

Dotterer, Dudderer and Dettra are the various forms of the name, as we find it along the Schuylkill, and few Americans can vie with the Pennsylvania Dutch family in the possession of such a beautiful manuscript, and such tangible evidence of their distinquished alliances four centuries ago.

See full-size facsimile of one page.

412 VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. Incipit Officium beate Mariæ Virginis Secundum Consuetudinem roniane curie.

Miniature 4to, full antique red morocco, elaborately gilt back and sides, gilt edges, in antique calf case. Circa 1450

Beautiful manuscript, written on one hundred and twenty leaves of vellum about 1450, and a beautiful specimen of the penmanship of the day, with rubrications throughout.

Illuminated Vellum Missal.

413 ILLUMINATED VELLUM MISSAL. Manuscript Missal, in Dutch, of the 15th Century, on Vellum.

Small 4to, full morocco, gilt back, gold borders on sides, inside dentelle borders, gilt edges, by Pawson and Nicholson.

This beautiful specimen of an illuminated manuscript contains three miniatures, seven pages illuminated with birds, animals, butterflies, insects, fruit and flowers. The manuscript is on one hundred and eight leaves, on each of which are many initial letters in red, blue and gold. In two places appears the coat of arms of the original owner, on which are the three fleurs de lys of the royal family of France. It is an admiral specimen of Mediæval art. The miniatures have been somewhat defaced by the kissing of the faithful. Were it not for this fact, it could not without much difficulty be surpassed.

414 VELLUM MANUSCRIPT. John de Liver's Astronomical Almanack for the Year 1340. Beautifully written on eight leaves of vellum in black and red, with the running titles, etc., in silver. At the end is a Canon or Rule, explanatory of its use, in Latin; also, a neatly written Manuscript in English on eight leaves of paper, being an Astrological Treatise, a portion of which is in Latin, with the name, J. Whytwel.

8vo, full morocco.

A unique old English manuscript of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Centuries. In the Astrological Treatise, at the end, it says, "Whan the mone is joyned wt. mars than is sche in the werst plyght" Presented to Ralph Thorsby, and by him referred to in his History of Leeds Unique, and of the greatest interest historically and philologically.

WASHINGTONIANA.

Washington's Autograph Diary.

440 WASHINGTON DIARY. A Virginia Almanac for the year 1767, used by General Washington for a Journal. It contains twenty-two pages of manuscript in his neat hand of early manhood, consisting principally of daily notes throughout the year, relating to the farm, church affairs, his slaves, etc.

12mo, boards.

Diaries or journals in the handwriting of General George Washington are of the most extreme rarity, and especially prior to the Revolution, all those known, with this exception, are either in public repositories or in the hands of those who are likely to bequeath them to some institution, and it is possible that this will be the last opportunity to obtain such an interesting memento of the great man. This little book, in which the General has jotted down in his familiar hand the occurrences of the day, contains a complete account, with few exceptions, of the state of the weather from February 1st to September 18th, as well as being replete with notes relative to his farms. A better picture of the General as a gentleman and farmer could not be had. On his birthday, February 22, 1767, he wrote: "Ground froze,—clear, wind Southward & warm: "13th Vestry meet by 2d appointment';" "16th Vestry meet at Pohick;" Feby "26th Sale of Colo Colcock's Negroes;" April "16 Sowed a little flax at Muddy hole;" April "21 began to Plant Corn in the Neck at the Mill;" July "27 began to Sow wheat at the Mill with the early White Wheat, with grass at Muddy hole." The printed part of the almanac is rather free and coarse, for instance it says, under the heading of September:

"This month some maids makes nine months after sick,
When they with men in woods, go nuts to pick;
For being round about with woods inclos'd
They oftentimes are wantonly dispos'd."

In the printed list of members of the House of Representatives the names of General George Washington and Patrick Henry both appear. See facsimile of second page.

BOOKS FROM GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON'S LIBRARY.

The Most Important Book in Washington's Library. Containing the Prayer for the Benefit of the Soldiery in the American Army.

441 WASHINGTON. Volume of Pamphlets, Gathered and Bound by General Washington, with his Autograph on the Title of the First Pamphlet, and his Armorial Bookplate on Inside of Cover.

Small 8vo, contemporary calf.

This unique collection contains ten pamphlets, the first printed in relation to the proposed plan of a Federal Government, and respecting the Seat of the Federal Empire (at Washington,) and the unique copy of "A Prayer for the Benefit of the Soldiery in the American Army," by Abiel Leonard, etc., viz:

* Some Observations on the Situation, Disposition and Character of the Indian Natives of this Continent (by Anthony Benezet). Philadelphia, 1784.

With the autograph of General Washington on title-page. See facsimile of title-page.

* Rules and Regulations of the Society for Political Enquiries. Philadelphia, 1787.

Very rare. With list of subscribers, including Franklin, Benjamin Rush, Robert Morris, David Rittenhouse, General St Clair, James Wilson, etc. The Society was established at Philadelphia, 9th February, 1787.

* Remarks on the Proposed Plan of a Federal Government, Addressed to the Citizens of the United States of America, and Particularly to the People of Maryland. By Aristides (Alexander Contee Hanson.) Annapolis (1788).

Autograph presentation copy from the author to "George Washington, Esqr. From his most devoted servant The Author," this is inscribed on the last page. Hanson was an aide to Washington, resided in his family, and was much in his confidence. This pamphlet is dedicated to Washington, and no doubt served as a mouthpiece for his own views.

* Political Opinions, Particularly respecting the Seat of the Federal Empire. Being an attempt to demonstrate the Utility, Justice and Convenience of Erecting the Great City in the Centre of the States, or, in the Centre of their Power, most humbly inscribed to his Excellency, the President, by a Citizen of America. Printed for the Author, 1789.

Privately printed, and of the most extreme rarity. It is the first suggestion of the capital on the Potomac, and the foundation of the history of the City of Washington, D. C. Probably inspired by Washington himself. On page 57 he is called "The Father of his Country," the first known time in English.

* A Serious Expostulation with the Members of the House of Representatives of the United States. Philadelphia: Printed in the Year 1793 (by Warner Mifflin).

Against slavery. Mifflin, with other Quakers, visited Washington in camp, at Pennypacker's Mills, Sept., 1777, to persuade him and Howe to stop fighting

* The Prompter; or, A Commentary on Common Sayings and Subjects, which are full of common sense, the best sense in the world. Boston, 1792 (by Noah Webster).

First edition. Very scarce.

* A Prayer, Composed for the Benefit of the Soldiery, in the American Army. To assist them in their private Devotions; and recommended to their particular Use, By Abiel Leonard, A. M., Chaplain to General Putnam's Regiment, in said Army. Cambridge: Printed and Sold by S. & E. Hall, 1775.

The only copy known. Preserved by Washington because of personal regard. Washington wrote concerning Leonard, Dec. 15, 1775, "His departure will be a loss. His general conduct has been exemplary and praise worthy, in discharging the duties of his office active and industrious, he has discovered himself a warm and steady friend to his country and taken great pains to animate the Soldiers." See facsimile title.

This collection of pamphlets, from their close personal relation to Washington, and their rarity, is no doubt the most interesting and valuable volume from his library.

442 WASHINGTON. Moore, John. A View of Society and Manners in Italy, with Anecdotes relating to some eminent Characters.
2 vols. 8vo, calf. London, 1788

From the library of Gen. Geo. Washington, with his autograph on each title-page, and armorial bookplate in first volume See facsimile title 442½ WASHINGTON. Swift, Jonathan. Travels into several Remote Nations of the World. By Capt. Lemuel Gulliver.

8vo, half sprinkled calf. London, 1727

Lacks all the title-pages but one, and several other pages.

This copy of the first or second edition of Gulliver, appears beyond reasonable doubt to have been the one owned and read by George Washington in his childhood It was sold with works from his library in Philadelphia, Dec. 10, 1890, and has the certificate of Stan V. Henkels that it was found among the books in the mansion of L H D Lewis, at Audley, Virginia. Over its pages are a number of ancient childish scribblings, and among them on page 72 on the Voyage to Laputa, are the initials "G W." This and other evidence is set forth in a full manuscript note on the fly leaves.

Books Belonging to Washington's Relatives.

443 NETLEY ABBEY. A Gothic Story. In two vols.
2 vols. in 1. 12mo, sheep. Philadelphia, 1796

Belonged to Lawrence Lewis, Washington's favorite nephew and husband of Nelly Custis, with his autograph on title, "L. Lewis" and on fly leaf, "L Lewis, Wood Lawn, Fairfax Coty, Virginia."

444 ADVICE TO A SON. Directing him how to Demean Himself in the Most Important Passages of Life.
16mo, old calf, rebacked, in morocco case. London, 1716

This little book was sold with the Washington Library, by Stan. V. Henkels, December 10, 1890. Of all the books then sold, it had by far the largest association with the family. As a memento of Washington and those near him, it is of much more importance than the Bible which belonged to Martha Washington. It was originally bought by John Custis, who wrote on the title his autograph and "Preteum 5 s., 6 d." It has written in it the following notes: "Daniel Parke Custis his Book, given him by his Father, the 4th Day of January one Thousand, seven hundred, Thirty and Three;" "Memorandum, On Wednesday the Twenty seventh of June seventeen hundred, Thirty & Nine at Night, between the hours of Eight & Nine my Sister Fanny Parke Custis was by the Reverend Mr David Masson Married to Mr William Winch, Shee was given by her Father and no other Person by but Daniel Parke Custis;" "H. L. D. Lewis' great great great grand fathers book;" "L. Lewis," and "Lewis June 22nd 1827." The three latter very faint in pencil.

Its history is as follows: Bought by John Custis prior to 1733, he gave it to his son, Daniel Parke Custis, and on the death of the latter it became the property of his widow, Martha. Upon her subsequent marriage, it went into the possession of her husband, George Washington, and from him to his executor and nephew, Laurence Lewis. It later descended to Lorenzo Lewis, and then to H. L. D. Lewis, who sold it in the sale of December 10, 1890. It forms the most interesting relic of George and Martha Washington to be had.

445 A SERIOUS PROPOSAL to the Ladies for the Advancement of their Interest. By a Lover of her Sex.
16mo, calf. London, 1697

From the Library of John Custis, and has in his autograph on the fly-leaf, "E Libris Joannis Custis, 1716. Preteum 3 sh." The volume was taken from Arlington by a soldier in the Civil War. The first owner of the book, Col. John Custis, King's Councillor of Virginia, married a lady with so sharp a tongue that he directed to be inscribed on his tombstone that he lived but "seven years which was the space of time he Kept a bachelor's house at Arlington." He doubtless thought this book might benefit her, and some of the manuscript notes in it are probably hers.

534 WILSON, JAMES. Signer of the Declaration of Independence. Autograph Letter, signed. Folio. Carlisle, January 18, 1777. To General Washington, with address.

"Give me leave to introduce Colonel Blaine to Your Excellency. You will find him sensible, active, spirited. If you have Occasion to employ a Person for laying up Magazines of Provisions in Pennsylvania, I know no one so well qualified or who may more safely be trusted in that Service."

Procession in Honor of the Constitution of the United States, 1788.

535 ORIGINAL PRINTED BROADSIDE. "Order of Procession In Honor of the establishment of the Constitution of the United States, To parade precisely at Eight o'clock in the Morning, of Friday, the 4th of July. 1788, proceeding along Third Street to Callowhill Street; Thence to Fourth Street; down Fourth Street to Market Street; thence to the Grounds in Front of Bush-Hill."

Folio, mounted on muslin, and bound in large 4to volume, half morocco. Philadelphia: Printed by Hall & Sellers.

Exeessively rare. Washington was in this procession. It is a volume of great historical interest, as it shows the contemporaneous appreciation of the most important event in American history.

CONFEDERATE PUBLICATIONS.

536 ABRAM, A MILITARY POEM. By A. Young Rebelle, Esq., of the Army.
12mo, original printed covers. Richmond, 1863

Excessively rare. The only copy I ever saw. It is a facetious poem or series of poems on Abraham Lincoln, Generals McClellan, Burnside, Pope, Stonewall Jackson, etc., with a humorous dedicatory epistle and biographical sketch of the author. The last poem, called "The Dream," winds up as follows:

"Old Abe met death as he had lived,
And the Yankees all wore crape,
And on his tombstone Davis wrote,
'Hic Jacet' Illinois Ape."

537 CONFEDERATE PRAYER BOOK. The Book of Common Prayer and Administration of the Sacraments, etc., according to the use of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Confederate States of America.
12mo, full morocco, gilt edges. Richmond, Va., 1863

Although bearing the Richmond imprint, this book was really printed in London for the use of the Confederate States, and a number of copies were captured on a blockade-runner by the "Ella," brought to Boston, confiscated and sold. In the "Order for the Morning and Evening Prayer" will be seen the "Prayer for the President of the Confederate States." But the form of the first "Prayer to be used at Sea," evidently by an oversight, remains unaltered. Charles Deane's copy, with his manuscript notes and newspaper clippings.

UNIQUE AND VALUABLE PLANS

of American Revolutionary Battlefields and Encampments.

The following plans were drawn and executed in colors by a French officer under General De Lafayette during the War of the Revolution, and are of the utmost historical importance, from the fact that some of them are the only plans we have of certain locations, as, for instance, Washington's camp at Valley Forge. They are also of great historic value from the fact that they were actually used by Lafayette during his campaigning with General Washington, and the other great Generals of the Revolution. Their value cannot be estimated.

606 ORIGINAL PLAN OF THE ENCAMPMENT AT VALLEY FORGE, PENNA IN THE WINTER OF 1777–1778. Beautifully executed in India Ink Wash, at the time. Showing the disposition of the various divisions under General Lafayette and Lord Stirling. Size, 20 x 14½ inches.

This is really the only plan of Washington's celebrated camp at Valley Forge, in the winter of 1777–78, in existence. It depicts the positions of the various divisions of the Continental Army under Lord Stirling and the Marquis de la Fayette. The history of the severity of that winter and the great sufferings endured by the Continental Army at this encampment are so well known that it is hardly necessary for us to refer to these facts to impress upon our patrons the great value of this plan. It was not published until 1898, when Governor Pennypacker allowed the Pennsylvania Society of Sons of the Revolution to make a facsimile of it.

607 NEW YORK. Reconnaissance de King's Bridge. Two original, beautifully executed plans, in colors, of the territory bounding on the North River and Harlem Creek, and a part of Long Island. Showing Fort Washington, Fort Laurel Hill, Redoubt of King's Bridge, or Fort Charles, and Cox Hill, Fort Independence, etc. Mounted on muslin. Sizes, 16¼ x 20¼ and 12 x 16¼.

Unpublished, and of the greatest historical importance in relation to the history of New York in the War of the Revolution.

608 PLAN DE WEST-POINT DU SUD. The original drawing, in colors, and giving a full description of the armament of the batteries. Mounted on muslin. Size, 15 x 12 inches.

609 PLAN DE WEST POINT DU NORD. The original drawing, in colors. beautifully worked up in the minutest detail. Mounted on muslin. Size, 8½ x 10 inches.

Unpublished. The above two plans are among the most important in relation to the Revolutionary War, as West Point was the great strategic point of the Americans.

610 PLAN DE LA BATAILLE DE TRENTON. The original drawing, in colors, most beautifully executed, and worked up in the most minute detail, inscribed "Plan de la Bataille de Trenton, ôn 3 regimens hessois aux Ordors du Colonel Rall furent attaques, & Obliges de se rendre Prix on Prisonniers le 24 X^bre 1776, à l'armée Americaine Commandée par le genéral Washington." Giving the location of the troops on each side. Mounted on muslin. Size, 9¼ x 15 inches.

Unpublished. A most important plan of the battle, which was really the turning point of the Revolution, and which has a peculiar relation to General Washington, from the fact that the battle was fought against the advice of his general officers, under the most trying circumstances, and proved the wonderful military genius of our great commander.

611 PLAN DES OUVRAGES DE PORTSMOUTH EN VIRGINIE. The original drawing, in colors, beautifully executed. Mounted on muslin. Size, 12 x 16 inches.

Unpublished.

612 PLAN DE RHODE ISLAND, 1781. The original drawing, in colors, beautifully executed, and worked up in the most minute details. Showing the positions of the American and British Armies, the French Fleet, etc. Mounted on muslin. Size, 20 x 40 inches.

Unpublished, and of the utmost historical importance.

The above seven plans are all contemporary, and drawn by the same hand, a French engineer in the service of America under Lafayette.

613 BATTLE OF MONMOUTH. Original contemporary drawing, in water colors, neatly executed. Size, 4¼ x 9 inches.

Very important as showing the position of the British the night before the battle, as well as the American troops; the various positions taken by Gen. Charles Lee, during his retreat; the disposition of the Army of Washington after he met Lee; the spot where they met, and Princeton Battle. Also shows the British position after the action.

614 PLAN OF NEW YORK and Staten Island, with part of Long Island. Survey'd in the Year 1781-2. The original drawing. Beautifully executed in colors. Size 31¾x53. A small Plan attached of New York Island, Staten Island, The Narrows, etc. Size 21x12.

Unpublished.

615 SIEGE OF YORKTOWN. "A Plan of the Entrance of Chesapeake Bay, with James & York Rivers, wherein are shewn the respective Positions (the beginning of Oct) viz 1. of the British army Commanded by Lord Cornwallis 2 of the American & French forces under Genl Washington & 3 of the french fleet under Count de Grasse. The original drawing, in colors. Beautifully executed by an officer in the American Army. Size 16x19¾. Also a small Plan relating to the same subject, in black and white. Size 8½x10.

Unpublished. A most important plan, giving a detailed sketch of both armies at the Siege of Yorktown, which terminated in the surrender of Cornwallis, and which made possible, to a certainty, the ultimate success of our War for Independence.

616 PLAN OF THE TOWN OF QUEBEC, Ye Capital of Canada, in North America, with the Bason and a part of the adjacent Country, shewing the principal Encampments and Works of the Baitish Army, Commanded by Major General Wolf, and those of the French Army, Commanded by General the Marquis of Montcalm, during the siege of that place in 1759. The original drawing in water colors on a most elaborate plan. Size, 68½x26¾.

Unpublished. Of vital importance. A most elaborate plan, giving every detail in relation to the topography of the country, as well as the positions of the French and English armies on this most auspicious occasion. The greatest event in our Colonial History, which resulted in the death of the brave General Wolf.

617 SIEGE OF SAVANNAH. Original drawing, in water colors, of the Siege of Savannah, Georgia, by the British, showing the various positions of the troops of both the American, and British. On thin paper. Size 20x21½.

A highly important plan of this auspicious occasion.

617½ PLAN SHOWING THE PROGRESS of the British Army, from the Landing at the head of Elk to the taking possession of Philadelphia, with lines to indicate the supposed March of the Rebels. The Original Drawing.

A very interesting contemporary plan of the march of the British army before taking possession of Philadelphia.

618 ORIGINAL PLAN of the Lakes of North America, and one other. Colored. 2 pieces

REMARKS.

THIS Catalogue embraces a most extensive and rare collection of books relating to the history of Pennsylvania, from its earliest inception to the present time, and includes many that are unique, as well as many so rare as to be almost unique. It is the result of the labors of Governor Pennypacker for the last forty years, and in it will be found the rarest items relating to Pennsylvania which have appeared in the sales of the many great collections that have been dispersed of late years. An unlimited knowledge of the subject has enabled Governor Pennypacker to gather together books printed long ago of which little was known, but containing much vital information in reference to the history of his native State. Consequently we can without uncertainty say that this is the most important collection of its kind ever offered for sale. To such works as we have thought worthy of notices, we have appended bibliographical information that will be of general historical value and give an idea as to their contents and rarity.

To this has been added his unique and extensive collection of magazines, newspapers and other periodicals published from time to time in Pennsylvania, embracing some of great rarity published in other sections of the United States. Many of these magazines were short lived, and have become so rare that it is almost impossible to obtain even single numbers of them, and Governor Pennypacker has succeeded in collecting full and complete files of each. Quite a number of these are in the German language, published at the small towns in the interior parts of Pennsylvania, and contain much local historical information not otherwise accessible. Those issued in the early days of Philadelphia are often illustrated with interesting portraits and views of intense local and general interest, and it will benefit those interested in the subject to make a careful examination of the Catalogue.

It would be impossible for us in these few remarks to draw especial attention to any particular book or work, as there are so many rarities entitled to notice that it really would compel a duplication of the descriptions contained herein. We have, therefore, confined ourselves to this supplementary notice merely to ask a careful review of the whole Catalogue.

Small 4to, vellum. Stockholm, 1702

This excessively rare work is of the highest interest. It begins by a general description of America, and in the account of Virginia divides it into three regions: New Sweden, New England and New Netherland. The work includes 32 pp. of vocabularies. Campanius does not omit the old Norse discovery of America. He was grandson of John Campanius, who translated Luther's Catechism into Virginian.

The separate plates consist of three pictures: I. View of Niagara; II. Meeting of Penn and the Indians; III. Group of Three Savages, designed by P. Landstrom. 1655; and of four maps: 1. General Map of America; II. Nova Suecia, after Nic Vischer; III. English America; IV. Nova Suecia. designed in 1654-55 by Landstrom. All the plates were engraved by Campanius in 1702, at Stockholm. Clean and perfect copies like this, in the original binding, are seldom met with.

224 HOLME, THOMAS. A Mapp of ye improved Part of Pennsilvania in America, Divided into Countyes, Townships and Lotts. Surveyed by Thos. Holme.
Large folio, mounted on linen, folio covers, half morocco. London, 1690
A fine copy of this excessively rare first map, of Pennsylvania, published at London in 1690. It is the only copy I ever saw, and as far as diligent research will prove, it is the only copy that has ever been offered at public sale, and we confidently assert that, of the very few copies in existence, this is undoubtedly the best preserved. Quite probable that the opportunity to purchase a copy will never be offered again.

225 HOLME, THOMAS. A Portraiture of the City ofPhiladelphia in the Province of Pennsylvania in America. By Thomas Holme, Surveyor General. Sold by Andrew Sowle in Shoreditch, London.

373 PENN, WILLIAM. A Further Account Of the Province of Pennsylvania and its Improvements. For the Satisfaction of those that are Adventurers, and enclined to be so.
Pp. 20. Small 4to, full morocco. London, 1685

This tract was published without title, and is of the greatest rarity, being one of the earliest accounts of the Province in Pennsylvania published in English.

374 PENN. A Letter to Mr. Penn. With his Answer.
Pp. 10. 4to, half morocco. London: Printed for Andrew Wilson, 1688

This is the scarcely known original edition of the pamphlet in which Penn, at the earnest solicitation of an anonymous friend, denies the charges that he is a Jesuit priest, educated at St. Omers, holding orders from Rome, and has frequently officiated in the celebration of Mass at Whitehall, St. James's, and other places, and that to these facts is attributable his well-known influence with James II, by which he has largely profited.

He commences thus: "It is now above Twenty Years, I thank God, that I have not been very Solicitous what the World thought of me." He then proceeds to deny the charges in gross and detail, but soon drops into a Quaker preachment, and seems to have forgotten where he started.

There are two or three allusions to Pennsylvania in the pamphlet, though it can hardly be said to relate to Pennsylvania, as Sabin's Dictionary says. Sabin could never have seen it, as his collation is wrong, and he says it is dated at Paddington, which is another error. Smith's Catalogue of Friends' Books dates the letter at Paddington also, and his collation is one and a half, while it should be two and a half. See facsimile title.

THE WAY TO THE PEACE
AND
NATIONS,

Fully discovered in two Letters, delivered to his late Highnesse the Lord Protector, and one to the present Parliament,

Wherein

The liberty of speaking (which every one desires for himself) is opposed against Antichrist, for the procuring of his downfall, who will not grant the same to others;

And now published

To awaken the publick spirits in England, and to raise up an universal Magistrate in Christendome, that can suffer all sorts of people, (of what Religion soever they are) in any one Countrey as God (the great Magistrate) suffers the same in all Countreys of the world.

Matth. 5. 15.

Men do not light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

By Peter Cornelius, Van Zurick-Zee, a lover of truth and peace.

Printed in the Year, 1659.

Facsimile Title of Lot 458.

458 (PLOCKHOY, PETER CORNELIUS.) Of the greatest rarity. It was purchased by Governor Pennypacker at the Barlow Sale. The book was so rare and so little known that it skipped the eye of the gentleman who catalogued that library, as well as the eyes of all the collectors and librarians and dealers who attended the sale. Governor Pennypacker noticed it, knew it, and purchased it, thereby securing the rarest work on early New York and Philadelphia. A translation of the title is:

(Title:) A short and concise plan intended as a mutual agreement for lessening the labor and difficulty of all kinds of artisans by a common company or colony, (under the protection of their High Mightinesses the States General of the United Netherlands, and especially under the favorable authority of the Worshipful Magistracy of the City of Amsterdam) to be founded on South River in New Netherland; consisting of Husbandmen, Mariners, Workmen of all necessary trades, the masters of necessary arts and sciences. Confiding in the privileges granted by the said Right Worshipful to that end (so as here will be found). Composed by Cornelis Plockhoy of Zierikzee for himself and other lovers of New Netherland.

The advantages were an hundred guilders to every family joining the company of Cornelis Plockhoy. This company was to consist of 24 families only. Each one was to work six hours every day for the Commonwealth. The products of this labor were to be distributed in equal portions to all persons above twenty years—the remainder of their time was left to the private industry of the individuals.—G. M. Asher, Essay on Dutch Books.

Governor Pennypacker says of this very scarce book: "Plockhoy, the author, and his little Mennonite colony lived at Horekill on the Delaware in peace with the Indians for years. In 1664 Sir Robert Carr destroyed the settlement and carried off all of the property (even to a nail). What became of the people is unknown, but thirty years later Plockhoy, old, blind, and poor, wandered with his wife to Germantown. The settlers there gave him a lot, built him a little house, planted a tree in front of it, and made him a garden. There he ended his days. This book being the first concerning a settlement on the Delaware by a man who lived and died here, is the very cornerstone of the history and literature of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey. Superlatively rare. Only two copies known to Muller of Amsterdam."

With an Introductory Account of the Preceding Campaign, and Battle at Bushy-Run. To which are annexed Military Papers, containing Reflections on the War with the Savages; a Method of forming Frontier Settlements; some Account of the Indian Country; with a List of Nations, Fighting Men, Towns, Distances, and different Routs. The whole illustrated with a Map and Copper-Plates. Published, from authentic Documents, by a Lover of his Country. With folding map, charts and engraved plates. A fine copy.

4to, contemporary calf, rebacked.

Philadelphia, printed; London, Re-printed for T. Jefferies, Geographer to his Majesty, at Charing Cross, MDCCLXVI.

For nearly a century this book was attributed to Thomas Hutchings, whose name is on the map of Colonel Bouquet's route. Mr. Spofford, at that time Librarian of Congress, called attention to a letter written by Rev. William Smith, of Philadelphia, in which he announced himself the author. It gives a detailed account of the first victory gained over the Indians by English troops after the savages had been taught the use of fire-arms. Twenty years elapsed before they gained another, and the period intervening was marked with much suffering and defeat.

The engravings are taken from the drawings of Benjamin West, exceedingly scarce in this form, and the reprint by Clarke is now difficult to procure. The above copy is in beautiful condition, the plates being evidently first impressions, and the text as clean as when issued.

629 (SMITH, DR. WILLIAM.) An Historical Account of the Expedition against the Ohio Indians in the Year 1764, under the Command of Henry Bouquet, Esq., Colonel of Foot, and now Brigadier General in America, including his Transactions with the Indians, relative to the delivery of their Prisoners, and the Preliminaries of Peace. With an Introductory Account of the preceding Campaign, and the Battle at Bushy-Run; to which are annexed Military Papers containing Reflections on the War with the Savages, etc. With two plans.
4to. Philadelphia, 1765

This copy, which is a fine one, contains the two plates by Hutchings, but appears never to have had the map called for. Excessively rare.

A most desirable set of this scarce magazine, which sprang into prominence at its inception, on account of the great literary attainments of its distinguished editor, so much so, that it was necessary to issue a second edition of it. This set is of first edition's throughout, which almost makes it unique, as most sets are made up with the second edition, in which are many omissions. This set is made up of the original numbers, fresh and clean generally, and most of the original covers bound in. Vol. I has an autograph receipt of Mathew Carey for two dozen magazines. Vol. II has on autograph receipt of Carey's. One of these receipts is to Geo. Washington for his magazine, and has his endorsement note on it. Vol. V has the rare slave-ship print. Vol. 7 has bound with it C. P. Raguet's Book Catalogue. Vol. 9 has Carey, Stewart & Co.'s Catalogue. Vol. 10 has a catalogue of Carey, Stewart & Co., and a Book Catalogue of Mathew Carey. Vol. 11 has Carey's Book Catalogue for September, 1792. In addition it contains all of the appendixes and advertisements. It be longed to the late John McAllister and is believed to be unique.

Note.—The magazine was commenced in January, 1787, and continued until December, 1792, inclusive, and the publication ceased and was not issued again until 1798, and at the expiration of that year it ceased for good. The year 1791 is bound in half sheep and is not uncut.

REMARKS.

THIS, the fourth part of the Catalogue of the valuable collection of books on Pennsylvania and general American history, gathered by the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, late Governor of Pennsylvania, is replete with items of intense historical interest relating to nearly every State in the Union, as well as the complete history of the American Revolution. By this we mean an exhaustive list of the various pamphlets and books published at the time, from the first commencement of the controversy up to the present; also many items of great rarity relating to the early discoveries and Indian wars of the first settlers, including the French and Indian War.

The Catalogue commences with a collection of American Genealogies, including many that were privately printed and that are almost unattainable to-day. The pre-Revolutionary pamphlets is the most complete set ever offered at public auction, and includes the excessively rare pamphlet, "A Full Vindication of the Measures of Congress," written by Alexander Hamilton at the age of eighteen; together with the various answers, pro and con, written by Samuel Seabury, Isaac Wilkins and others, and published by James Rivington, the celebrated Tory printer of New York.

Of the various controversial pamphlets issued during the Revolutionary War, the collection is very complete, as well as containing all the important histories of the Revolution, including the original Journals of Congress, the original draft used in the convention of the Constitution of the United States, of which probably another copy could not be found.

There is a complete list of the early histories of the States, counties and towns, and of the early travels and explorations. The Indians are represented by a fine copy of Loudon's Indian Wars, published at Carlisle in 1808, and which to-day is rated as one of the rarest items in Indian history; Ziesberger's Delaware Indian Spelling Book, published at Philadelphia in 1776; Livingston's Review of the Military Operations in North America, published in New York in 1770; original edition of Heckewelder's Narrative; and an extra-illustrated copy of "A Letter to the Right Honorable William Pitt, from an Officer at Fort Frontenac," London, 1759.

Among the books of general interest will be found a fine copy of Morgan Edwards' History of American Baptists, 2 vols.; the most complete collection of the pamphlets written by William Cobbett, including his "Political Censor"; the works of Thomas Paine as first issued; an original autograph orderly book written at Valley Forge by Henry Dearborn in 1778; the suppressed edition of Herndon's Lincoln, in 3 vols.; an early Jansen imprint in 1679, before he came to Philadelphia, giving an account of the hanging of Quakers in Boston; the life of James Aitken, alias John the Painter, who destroyed the naval stores at Portsmouth, England, in 1777—the rare original edition published at London in 1777; the original broadside issued by Secretary Stanton for the apprehension of the assassin of Abraham Lincoln; Stanbury and Odell's Loyal Verses; Major Robert Rogers' Account of North America, London, 1765; Sargent's Loyalists Poetry of the Revolution, etc. This will give a general idea of the worth of the collection, as it would be impossible for us to quote all the important items. The collection merits the attention of all collectors of early Indian history, early State and town history, pre-Revolutionary and Revolutionary history, and early explorations and travels in the United States.

336 Continental Congress. The Journals of the Proceedings of Congress. Held at Philadelphia from January to May, 1776. 8vo, half morocco, gilt, top edge gilt, uncut. R. Aitken, Philadelphia, 1776

Of this excessively rare volume, Aitken says, in his account book, April, 1776: "I was ordered to print no more in this large type and to begin a new edition, beginning with the Session of Congress which rendered the sale of the above abortive. Meantime I sold 80 copies. I also sold 14 Reams of this edition to Benjamin Flower for the use of the Army for cartridges at 30s per ream." It is probable that another copy could not be found. This is clean as the day of issue.

Henry Dearborn's Valley Forge Orderly Book.

389 Dearborn, Henry. The Original Autograph Orderly Book of, at Valley Forge from January 13th to February 4th, 1778. With each day's Orders, Courts Martial and Events. 4to, half morocco.

This orderly book lacks several pages at the front and back, but contains all the orders, courts martial and events in camp from January 13 to July 14, 1778. It is of great historical interest from the fact that it takes in one whole month at Valley Forge, of the most severe winter the Continental Army had to suffer under. The proceedings of the courts martial are peculiarly interesting in detailing the different petty offenses committed by the soldiers, and their punishments, which generally consisted of a generous use of the rod at the head of their regiment, and also of a few cases where capital punishment was necessary. It also gives an account of how bravely Colonel Lee defended his quarters against a troop of the enemy's dragoons of vastly superior numbers. Anything of this character from the memorable camp at Valley Forge is of the greatest rarity.

(Vol. I. 12mo, original calf, and Vol II. 12mo, half morocco, top edge gilt, uncut.)
Philadelphia, 1770-1792

Of the most extreme rarity and a fine copy, although differently bound. Two volumes were all that were published, and they contain a history of the Baptists of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. in the postscript to Vol. II. he advises purchasers not to bind their books, because "four other little volumes will be added in due time, and because the five may be bound nearly as cheap as one, which volumes (with this) will comprise the history of the Baptists in the five Middle States. The history of them in Delaware State is obtained already; and will be sent to the press as soon as sufficient number of subscribers offer." It is evident that a sufficient number of subscribers never did offer, as the two volumes were all that ever appeared in print.

See facsimile title.

AGGAVVAM in AMERICA.

WILLING

To help 'mend his Native Country, lamentably tattered, both in the upper-Leather and sole, with all the honest stitches he can take.

And as willing never to bee paid for his work, by Old English wonted pay.

It is his Trade to patch all the year long, gratis.

Therefore I pray Gentlemen keep your purses.

By Theodore de la Guard.

Carlisle: From the Press of A. Loudon (Whitehall), 1808

A very good copy of this excessively rare work. It is so scarce that Brinley only succeeded in getting a copy, lacking a signature. In this copy Vol. I. cannot be surpassed. Vol. II is somewhat thumbed and time-stained, and the title and some few of the front pages are slightly torn on the margins, in the way a book will get when much read. It is the third and very best copy we have seen, and I think we are safe in saying it is as good a copy as a collector could hope to get. See facsimile title.

698 Manuscript. Original Manuscript Narrative of the Adventures of John Menzies, alias John Little, in the Years 1793 and '4. 12mo, full morocco, gilt. Philadelphia, 1835

The author of this beautifully written and exceedingly interesting manuscript journal was John Menzies who was born in 1776, on the River Esk in Scotland. It contains a graphic and realistic description of life on a slaver, of the ceremonies to Neptune on crossing the line, and of the great naval battle between the British fleet under Lord Howe and the French Fleet, in 1794. He was on Howe's vessel, and says at the gun where he stood the captain of the gun and two men were wounded, one of them having the cap of his knee entirely taken off. The balance of the volume contains his poetical descriptions, in Scottish dialect, of persons and events in Philadelphia, where he lived in 1835.

t'Hoorn, Voir David Pietersz de Vries, etc., 1655

With the rare portrait of De Vries at the age of sixty, engraved by Cornelius Vischer.

De Vries made six voyages, the one to New Netherlands being the most interesting. Of the others, one was to Newfoundland for fish, one to Guiana, and three to the East Indies.

In the introduction to Murphy's translation of these voyages, privately printed by Mr. Lenox, he says of all the numerous Dutch navigators and travelers after Hudson, De Vries was the only one who published a journal or narrative of any voyage to New Netherlands during the period of the possession of the country by the Dutch nation.

In this introduction, Murphy further says: "The book is one of the rarest to be found, no printed copy being known to have been extant in this country, before the one from which the following translation has been made was obtained by James Lenox, Esq."

Of the eighteen copperplates printed in the text, two represent the author's encounters with the pirates in the Mediterranean, four relate to the East Indies, and twelve to America. The text was first printed and the illustrations afterward printed in the spaces left for them.

In this copy there has been inserted Montana's View of New Amsterdam, and the work also gives an interesting account of the South River or Delaware.

The title has been neatly repaired and cut rather close at the top. See facsimile title.
